sights . . .

I SEE: the buses out front, seen by those who pass; the deserted bench after the game; an art class; challenges at college day; the footballs thrown out by cheerleaders at the games. I see all this and much more.

sounds . . .

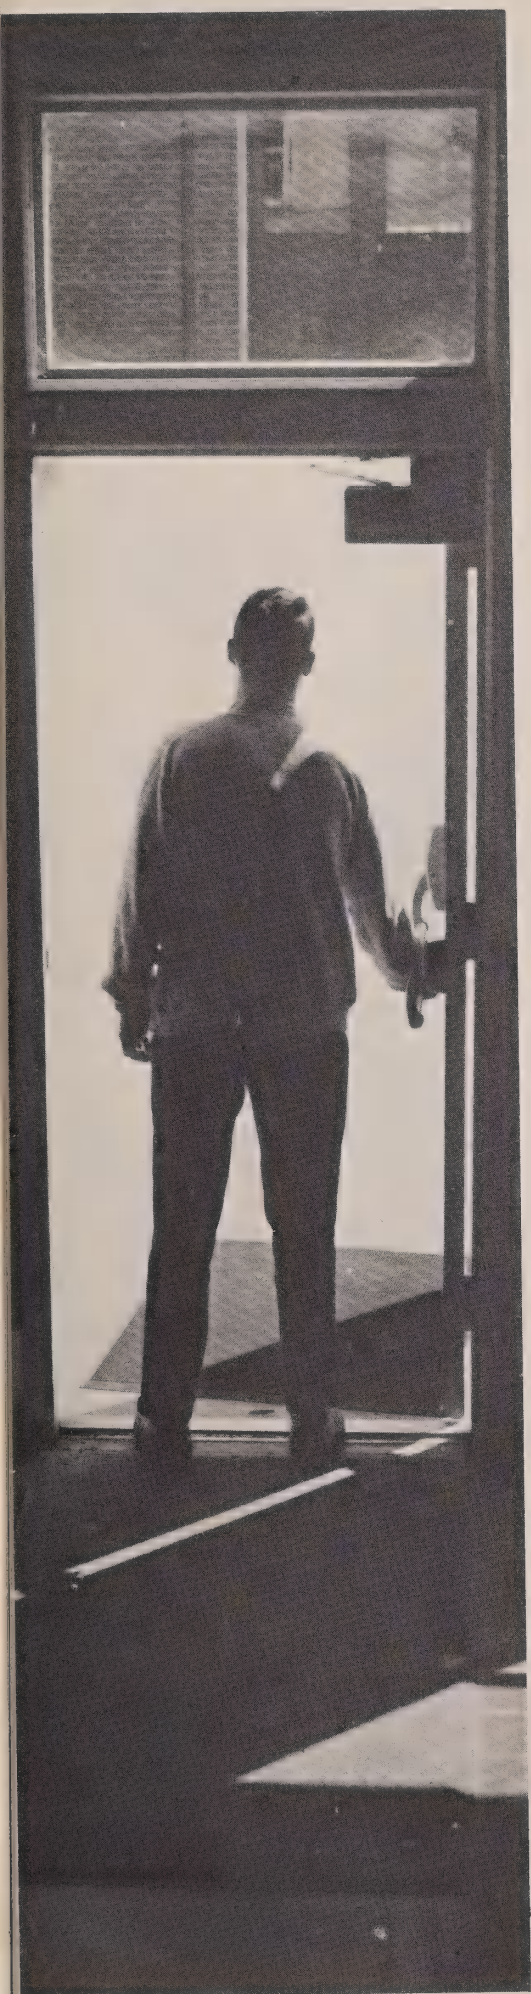

I HEAR: the advanced chorus in assembly; Clyde Waugh as he strums the bass; Mrs. Vannoy announcing a "cake-walk"; Curly in OKLAHOMA as he sings of the surrey; all the noise of a football game; the music from the "juke" as it blares at the "Y". All these sounds echo through my mind as I look back and remember.

emotions . . .

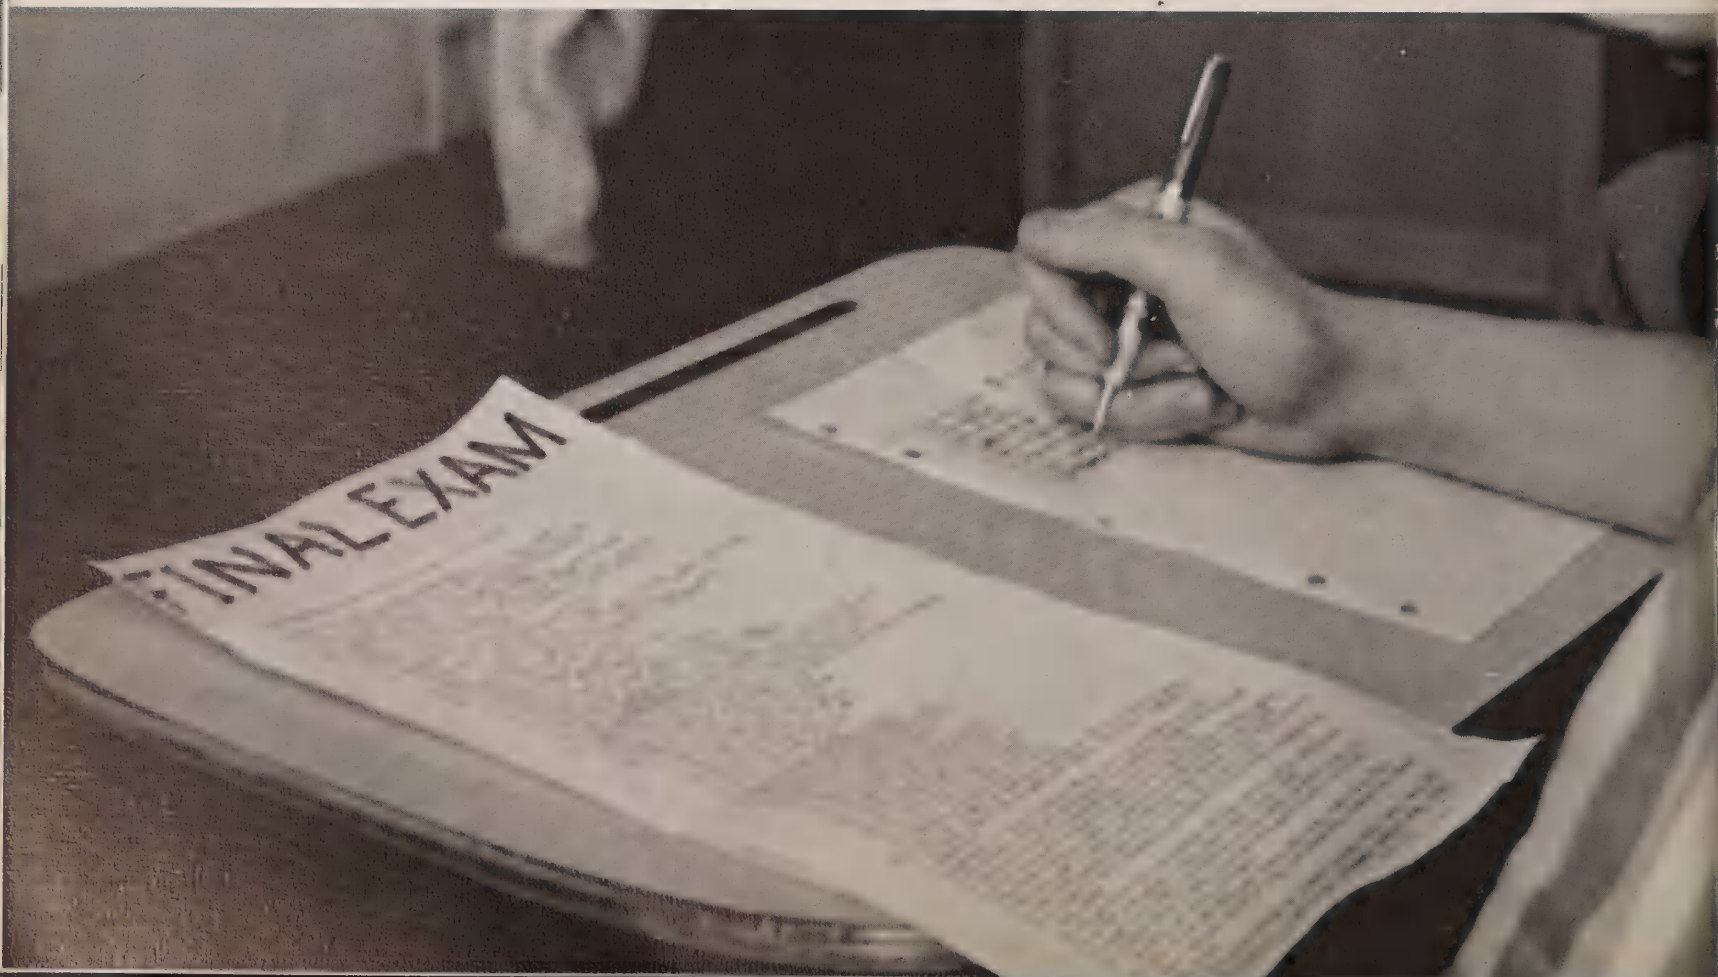

I FEEL: the many emotions that cross the face of any student; the pride, joy, and touch of sadness that respond to the sight of the flag of the South; the wonder and uncertainty that come with a thought of the future; the pride of serving my school; the joy of companionship. I know all these emotions.

experiences . . .

I EXPERIENCE: wrecking a car at a pep rally as we would wreck the opposing team the next night; putting everything I had into the publication of a fine yearbook; the strain of finals; the surprise and pride in receiving a coveted award; and the labor but gratification of building a float.

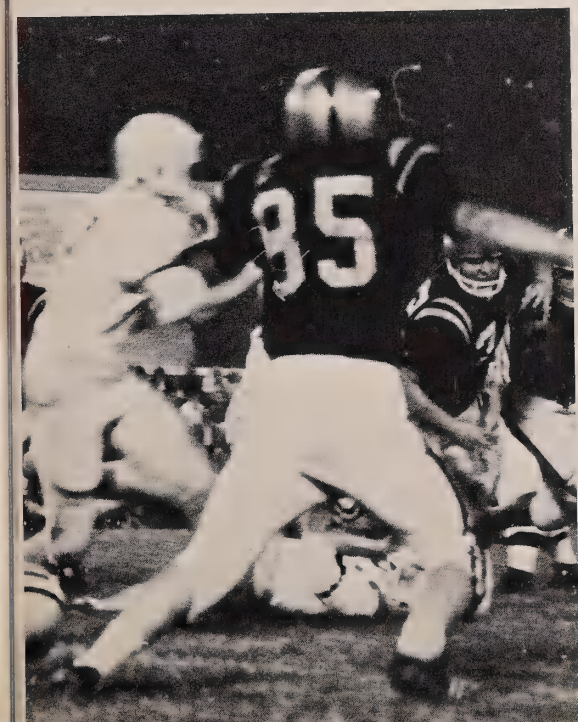

all producing an environment of

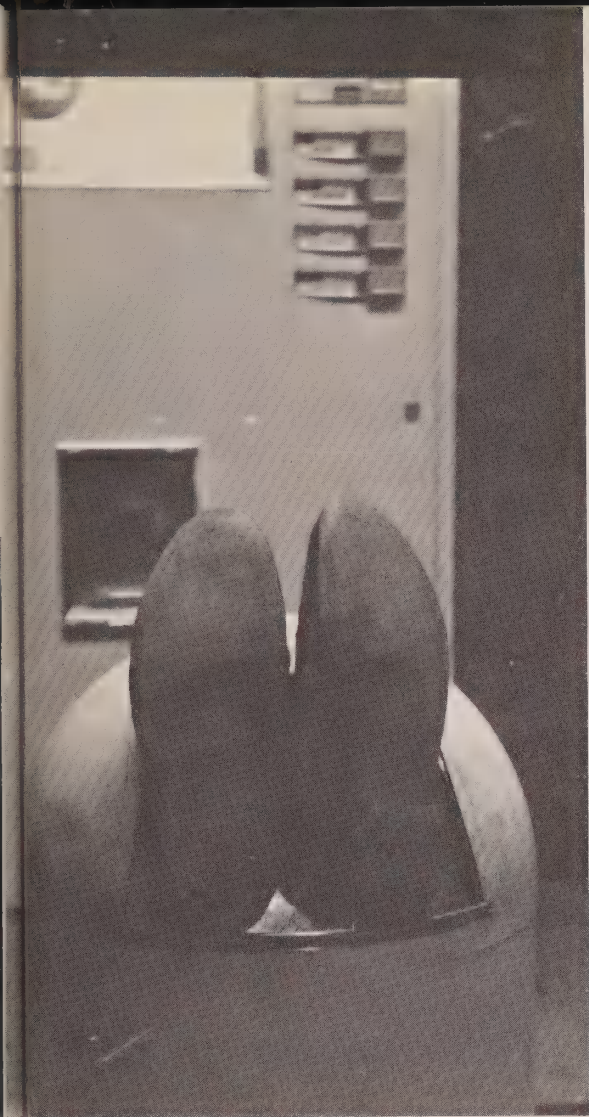

All these produce an environment of many faces making a whole—a whole of: preparing for college; study and learning; sports and excitement; a great dramatic production; beginning to discover what the future has to offer. I feel that I live in a very healthful and challenging environment.

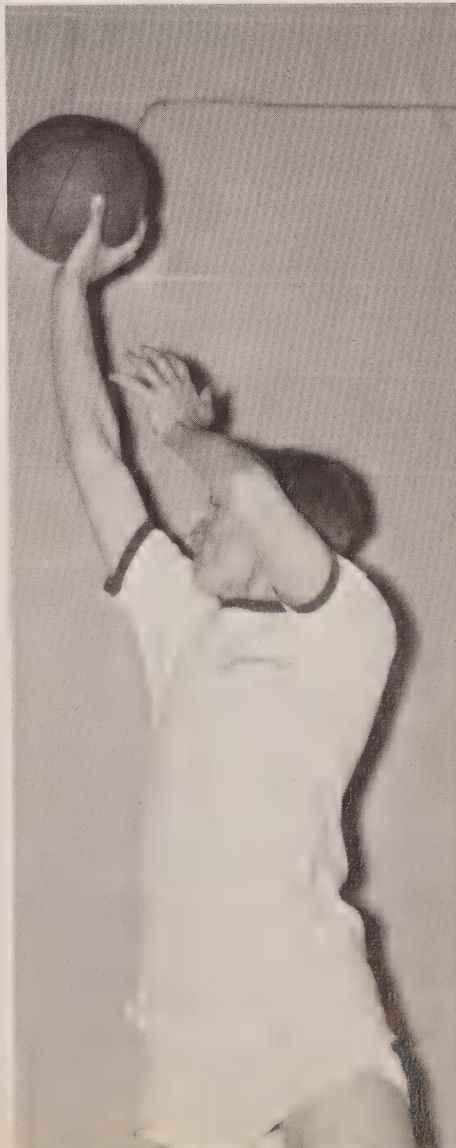

Dedication

To the students who are WCHS, we dedicate the 1966 Green and Gold. The name WCHS does not refer simply to a complex of brick buildings, dark corridors, and open doors; but to the people who study, laugh, and serve here. These students not only produce a need for the school, but fulfill that need. By honoring the school, they honor themselves. WCHS is people. This book is dedicated to these people.

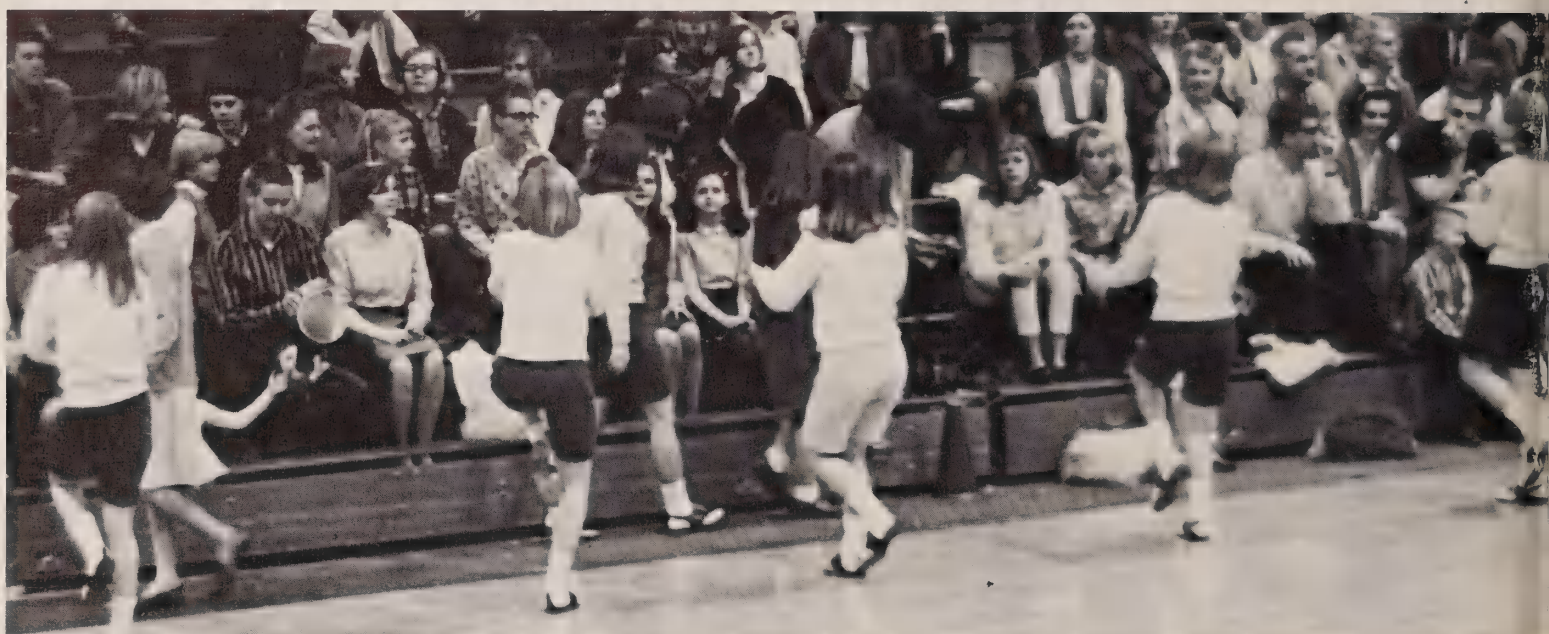

ACTIVITIES and ORGANIZATIONS

The return to school brings the reunion of friends.

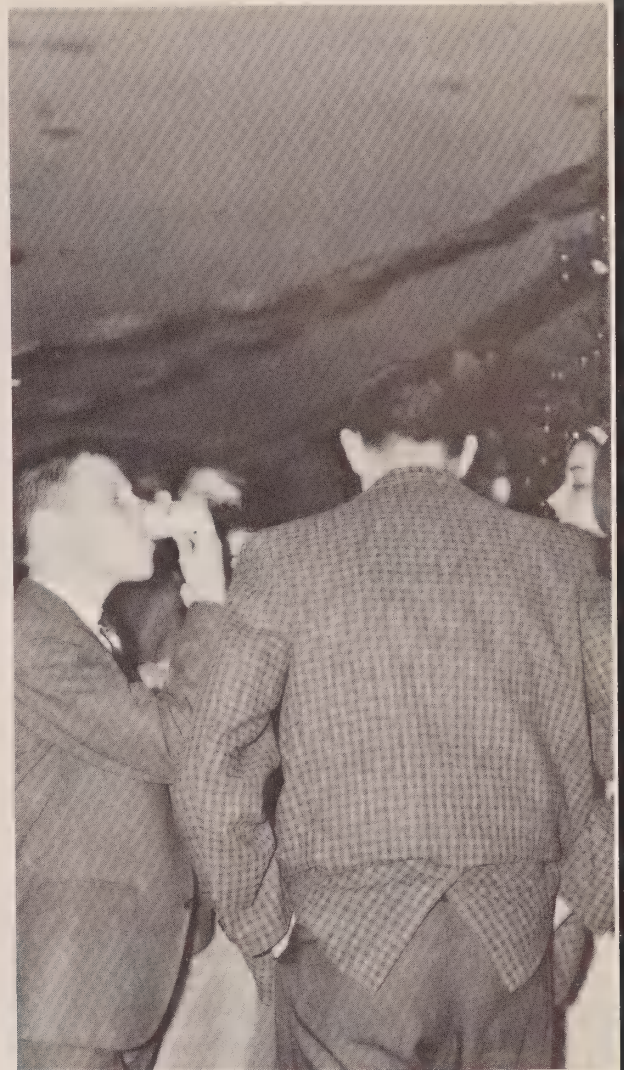

Screams, rants, raves—all come under the general heading of team support.

A "relaxed" and true Dog-Patch atmosphere was the theme of the Sadie Hawkins Day dance.

Students look forward to a pep rally not only as an escape from class but also for the scenery.

Not everything at a dance is dancing; there is always time for food, drink, and talk.

Ronnie Parker, Buz Wood, and Sam Stroud pause to replenish their energy supply.

Homecoming

A plain football field was transformed into a royal court for the queen and her attendants.

Everyone applauded as Quarterback club president, Nick Wehrmann, crowned their queen.

Ladies and gentlemen, your 1965 Homecoming Queen, Miss Kathy Billings.

The highlight of the football season is Homecoming. This one event encompasses more work and planning on the part of the students and Student Council than any other activity. More students participate in this activity than any other. The magnificent results of their efforts on the floats and election of the homecoming court made this the biggest Homecoming that WCHS has ever had.

The parade had fourteen floats, and many comments were made about the work that must have been and was put into them.

The high point of the day was the game and the crowning of the queen at halftime. The ceremonies were done by Mr. Wehrmann, and WCHS's 1965 Homecoming queen began her reign.

A beautiful day, a beautiful float, a beautiful queen.

Call, Geraldine Smithey, Sally Shumaker, Nancy Stewart. THIRD ROW: Judy Miller, Peggy Taylor, Virginia Raymer, Regina Owens, Dottie Walker, Susannah Cashion. FOURTH ROW: Nancy Church, Jane Somers, Vicky Huffman, Brenda Nunn, Jackie Priester.

This year's Eagle fans expected a good team, but few expected it to be so great as it really was. The Eagles won nine out of ten regular season games, the only loss by a narrow margin of one point in a heartbreaking game with Morganton. This outstanding record enabled Wilkes Central to clinch the North-western Conference championship title.

Credit for the Eagles' success goes to many people. Our cheerleaders and supporters gave the necessary inspiration to keep the team's spirit and performance high. Central's coaching staff, one of the most able in the state, supplied the knowledge to enable us to strike at our opponents' weaknesses. At the same time they worked hard to correct our own weaknesses and to prepare us for our next opposition. Active and monetary support from the Quarterback Club supplied further support and new equipment.

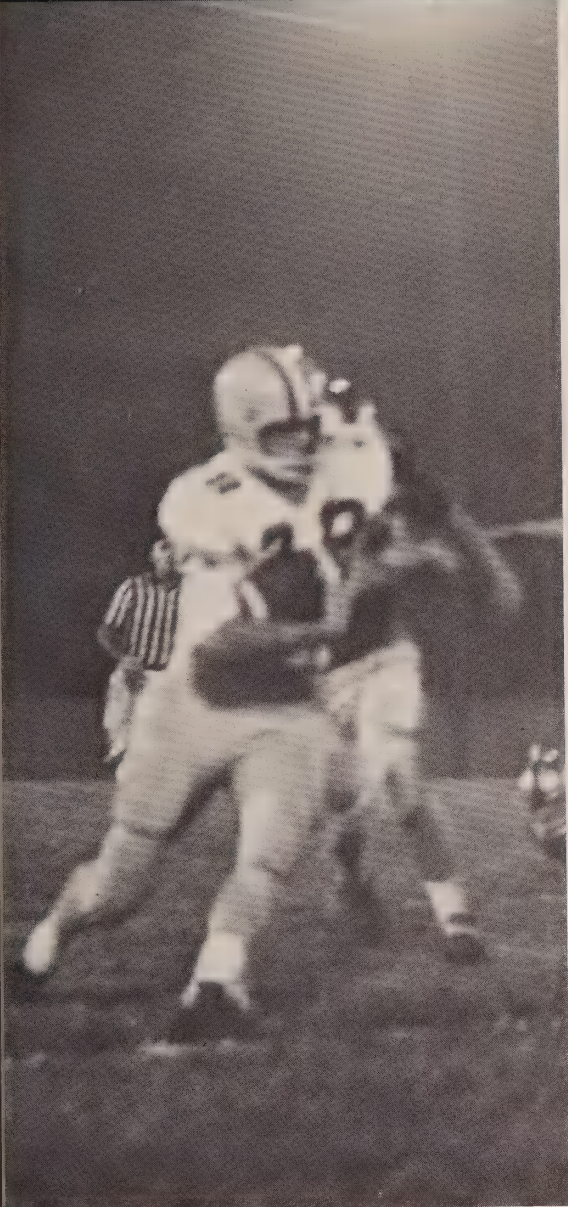

Most credit, however, goes to the players themselves. Teamwork and speed helped the Eagles overcome heavier and stronger opponents. In many games the fans saw the Eagles fall behind during the first half, but the never-die attitude of the players enabled the Eagles to spring back to victory and to make another step toward the Conference championship.

Our coaching staff: Coach Hoffman, Coach Branch, Coach Groce.

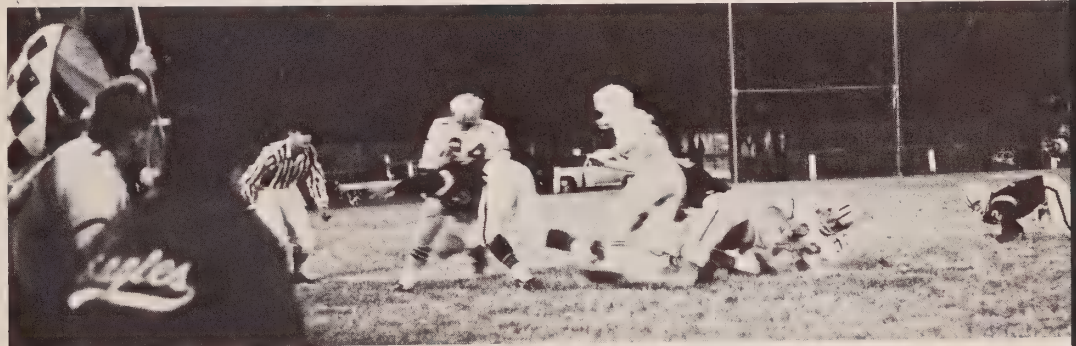

Johnny Swofford eludes an onrushing Taylorsville tackler to launch another pass.

WCHS	12-13	Morganton
WCHS	11-6	West High
WCHS	27-12	Hudson
WCHS	33-14	Hickory
WCHS	38-13	Valdese
WCHS	20-7	Newton
WCHS	40-7	Lenoir
WCHS	27-20	Watauga
WCHS	6-21	East Rutherford

Letterman halfback Ronnie Huffman runs the sweep around right end for valuable yardage.

Coach Hoffman watches for weaknesses in the opponents' defense as Mike Meade carries the ball.

Varsity Lettermen

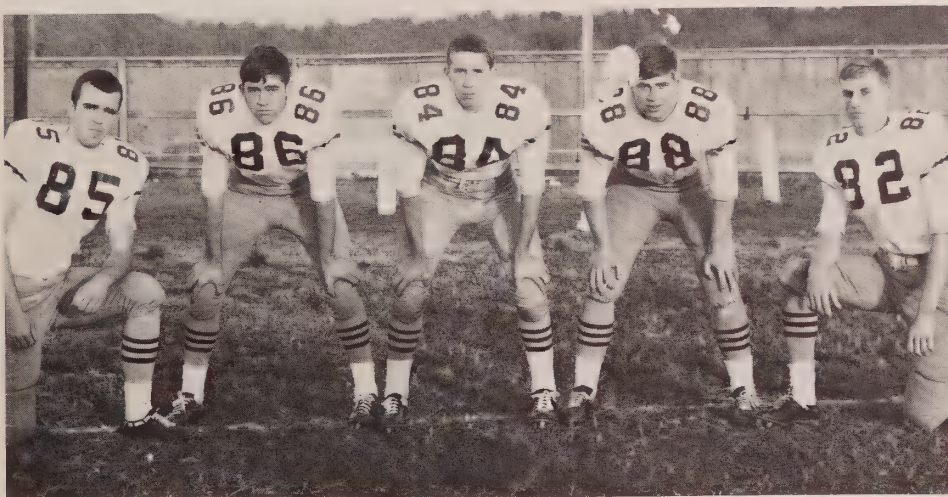

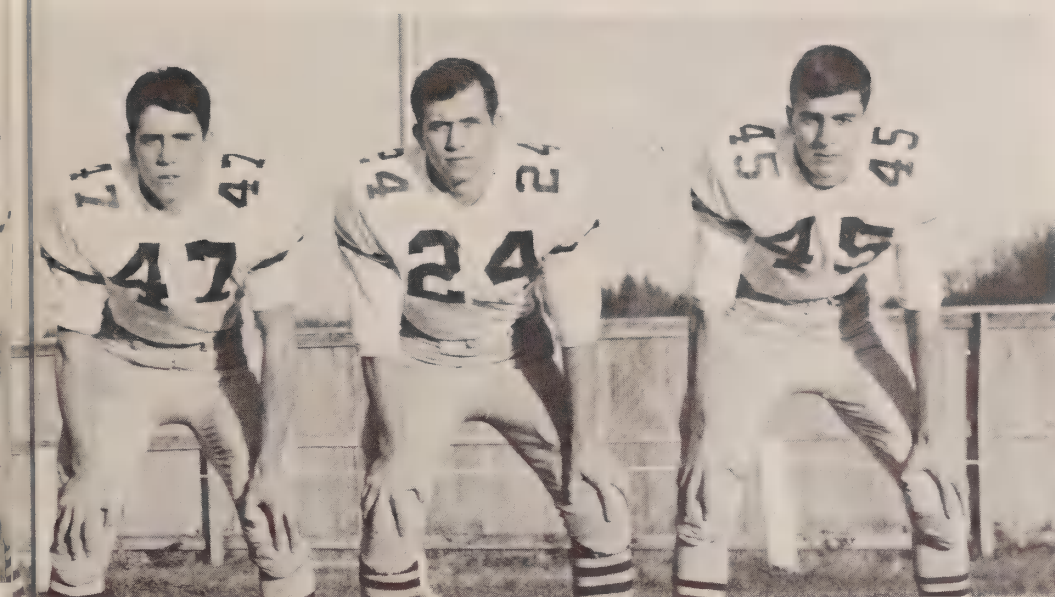

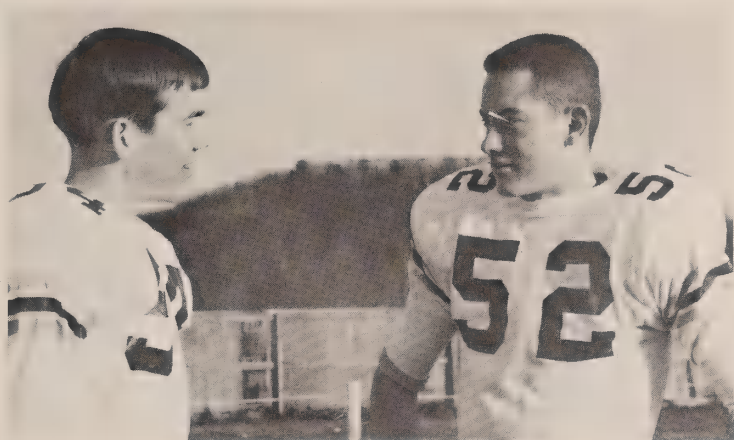

GUARDS: Phillip Smith, Mike Brooks, David Davis, Larry Anderson, and Johnny Gilreath.

HALFBACKS: Larry Hall, John Davis, Roger Wright, Eddie Bundy, Mike Meade, and Ed Finley.

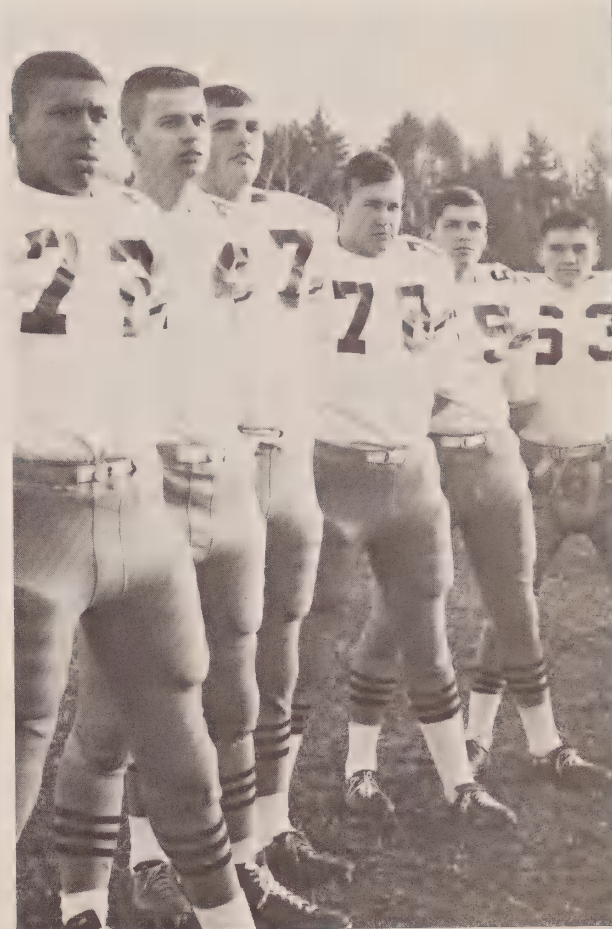

QUARTERBACKS: Johnny Swofford, Roger Necessary, Dexter Hoffman. FULLBACKS: Bobby Billings, Dennis Brown, and Sam Stroud.

CENTERS: Roy Williamson, Stuart Foster, captain.

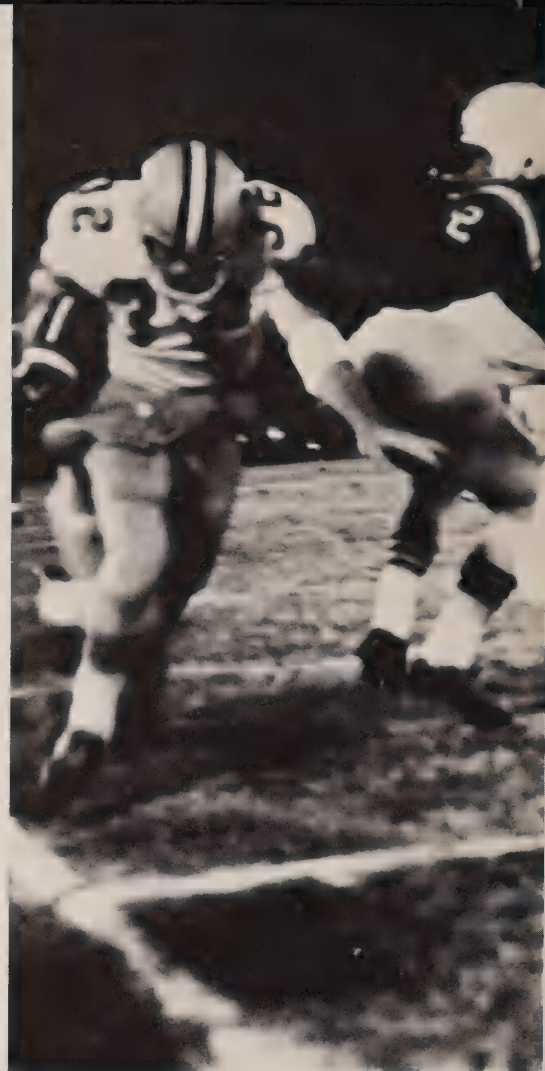

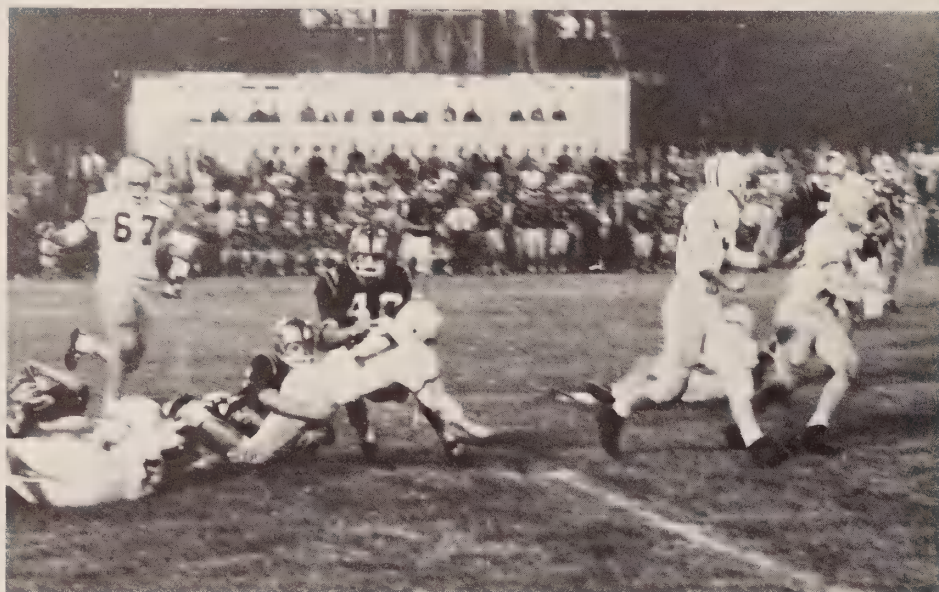

ENDS: Jim Lowe, Jim Pipes, Bobby Lewis, Nick Wehrman, Howard Wallace.

TACKLES: Herbert Gilreath, David Lockhart, William Watts, Tom Eller, Syd Spainhour, Lin Brooks.

Bobby Billings fights for extra yardage carrying a Taylorsville player with him.

As the Eagles' defense sets up a punt return, the ball carrier is pulled down by Taylorsville tacklers.

The extra point is added to one of many touchdowns scored by the Eagles.

J. V. Football

The future of the football teams here at WCHS depends largely on the efforts and training that these J.V.'s get in their freshman and sophomore years. They are preparing to carry on the winning tradition of the "Eagles" and in so doing they prove to themselves and others that they are real sportsmen. These goals are high-sounding, but they are realistic and to be on the winning team they must be achieved. Our J.V.'s are learning, and they have the future of the WCHS winning tradition.

The J.V.'s learn that a quick, smooth snap is essential for a successful play.

This year's J.V. squad is, FIRST ROW: Jim Byrd, Dennis Eller, Tommy Ray, Tim Day, Jan Searce, Steven Whittington, Perry Mathis, George Glass, James Bowers, Mike Johnson, manager. SECOND ROW: Coach Deal, Monte Combs, Larry Call, Stanley Whittington, Larry Burke, Eddie Jarvis, Mike Inscore, Danny Raymer, Craig Shennaman, Ricky Anderson, Joe Wilson, Dale Shumate, Larry Payne. THIRD ROW: Herbert Riley, Eddie Roberts, Gary McLean, Frank Day, David Minton, Bucky Harris, Lonnie Bumgarner, Brinkly Harris, Marvin Byrd, Joe Byrd, David Call, assistant-coach Willie Maples.

Coach Thornburg drills the J.V.'s hard and long.

Cheerleaders

Vitality, enthusiasm, co-operation, sportsmanship, ability and hard work—these are a few of the essential characteristics of a cheerleader. Their practice begins in the summer and continues throughout the year as they work toward a common goal—to promote school spirit. We see the effect of this through bonfires, pep rallies, posters, and most of all ballgames. They accomplish their goal because they, themselves, represent it so well.

It's only a quarter!

The Cheerleaders have the support of the entire student body at the pep rallies.

Crashing through the mighty "Eagle", the cheerleaders lead the team to victory.

Members of the Varsity Cheerleaders are: Marie Wingler, Linda Frazier, Tootie Raymer, Judy Miller, Peggy Taylor, captain; Susannah Cashion, Dottie Walker, Vicky Huffman, and Nancy Church.

Peggy Taylor, captain, shows through high spirit that she backs the "Eagles".

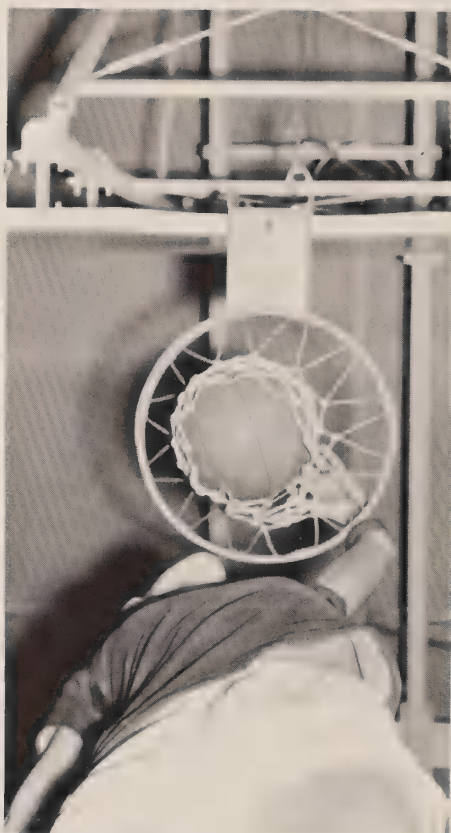

Members of the J. V. Cheerleaders are: Kay Edminston, Sharon Billings, Karen Hayes, Susie Trivette, Laura Day-chief, Sandra Greene, Janie Bumgarner, Patty Phillips, and Joyce Whittington.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

Larry Hall jumps against an opponent in an important conference game.

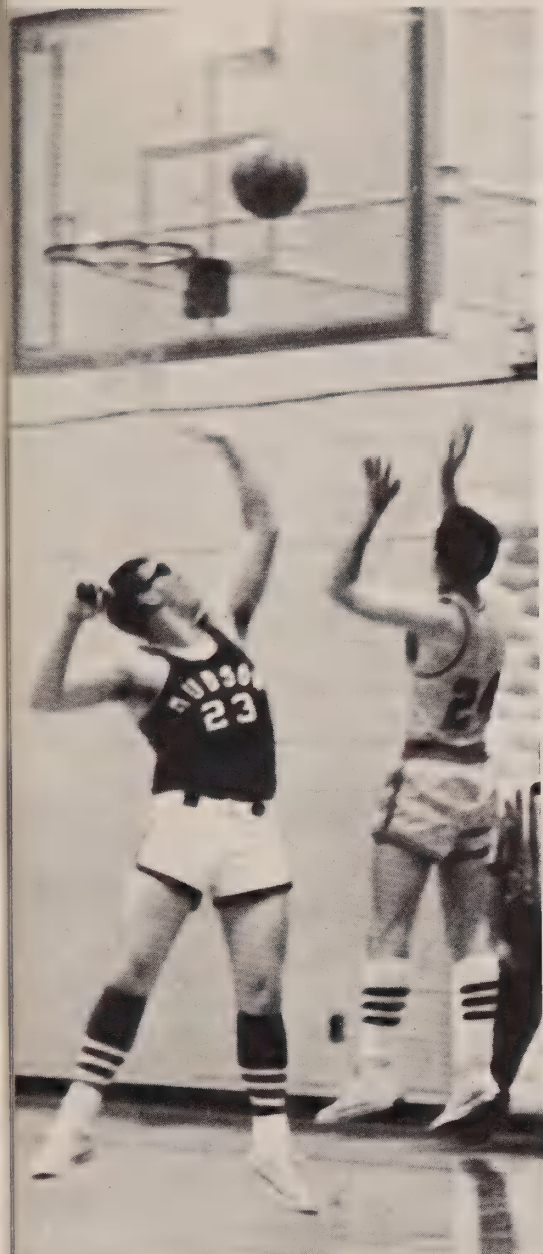

Jim Smoak demonstrates one of the advantages of being the tallest man on the court.

Although our Eagles started off this year with a new coach and only two returning lettermen, they put in long hours of practice so that they could give their opponents hard-fought games. They never lost their fighting Eagle spirit even in defeat. They always left the court determined that when they returned things would be better and the Eagles would be Great!

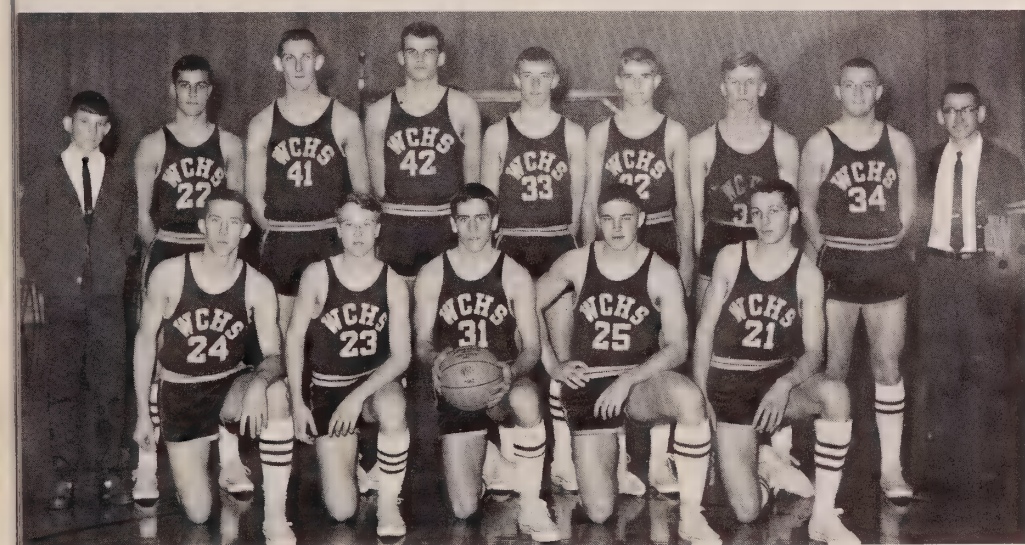

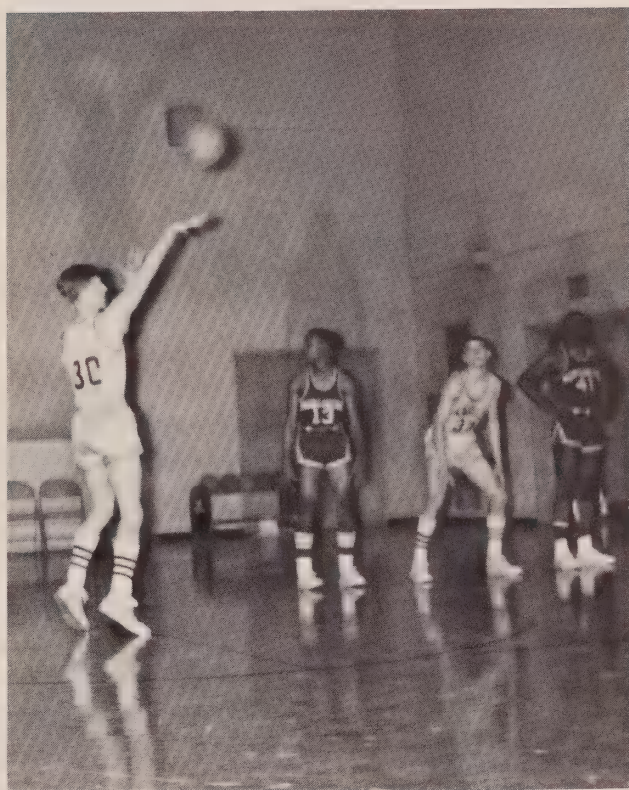

Jim Smoak battles for a rebound with a Hudson player.

Bobby Lewis shoots, but Hudson's number 23 tries to guard.

Howard Wallace, captain, shoots from the foul line.

Coach Madison discusses strategy with his boys.

Girls' Basketball

This year WCHS has seen the fine achievements of the girls' basketball team. Led by Coach Jo Madison and co-captains Judy Lane and Reba Phillips. They have provided the fans with hours of exciting and enjoyable shows of team effort. Our girls have proved themselves to be sportsmen in all aspects and capable of playing a good game.

Wanda Thomas hits one as she invades the opposing defense.

Members of the 1965-66 girls' basketball team are, Jettie Bouchelle, Wanda Church, Judy Lane, co-captain; Reba Phillips, co-captain; Wrenda Rogers, Wanda Thomas, Debra Rhodes. SECOND ROW: Sharon Long, Sara Sloop, Frances Cashion, Judy Harold, Marcelle Morgan, Mickey Allen, Sherlene Alderman, Bretta Welborn.

Coach Madison gives the girls important advice.

Debra Rhodes watches as Judy Lane raises the score.

Mickey Allen jumps high to beat her opponent.

Marcelle Morgan makes a side shot for another two points.

The 1965-1966 lettermen are Sherlene Alderman, Judy Harold, Judy Lane, Reba Phillips, Sarah Sloop, and Marcelle Morgan.

Member of J. V. Basketball team are, FIRST ROW: Joe Wilson, Bill Gwyn, Benson Marsh, Kenny

Mark Goodman, Ronnie Lane, Steve Tuttle, Tommy Thomas, Mr. Durham—coach.

J. V. Basketball

Jump ball, jump ball, get it, get it!

Coached by Mr. Durham, the boys on the J.V. team combined sportsmanship, spirit, and ability with teamwork for an exciting season. These young boys find that participation in sports develops both physical and mental awareness. Also in this participation in the J. V. team they are building their skill for the Varsity team and increasing their sports "know-how". These young men have the same responsibilities as all other WCHS teams in representing our school.

Ronnie Lane runs to help his teammates get the ball.

Hard practice and work before the game make us sure of winning.

Wrestling

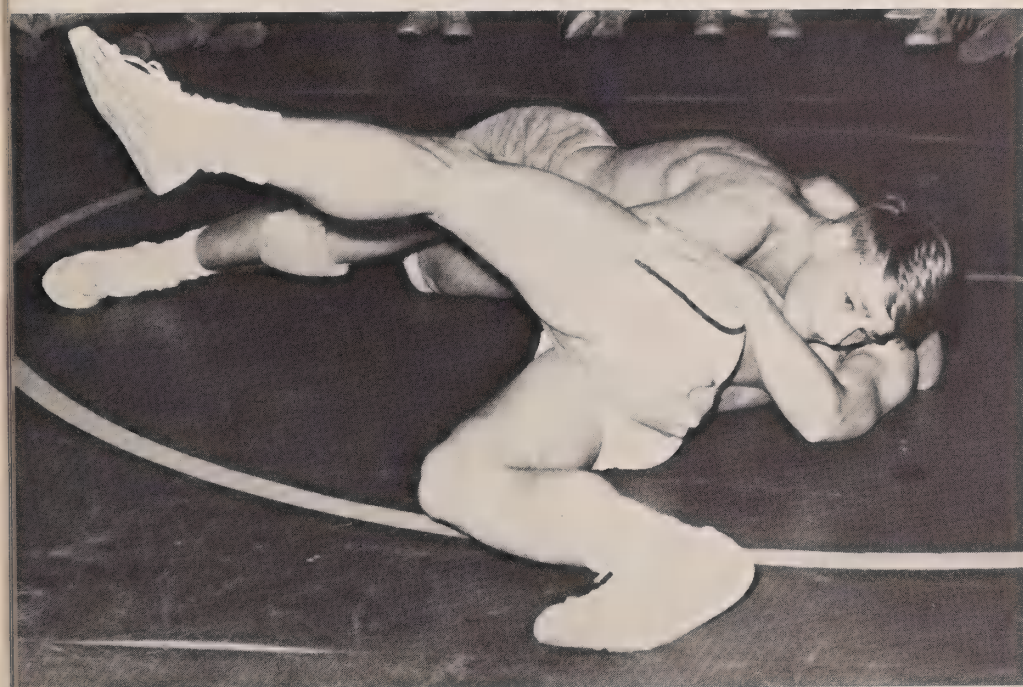

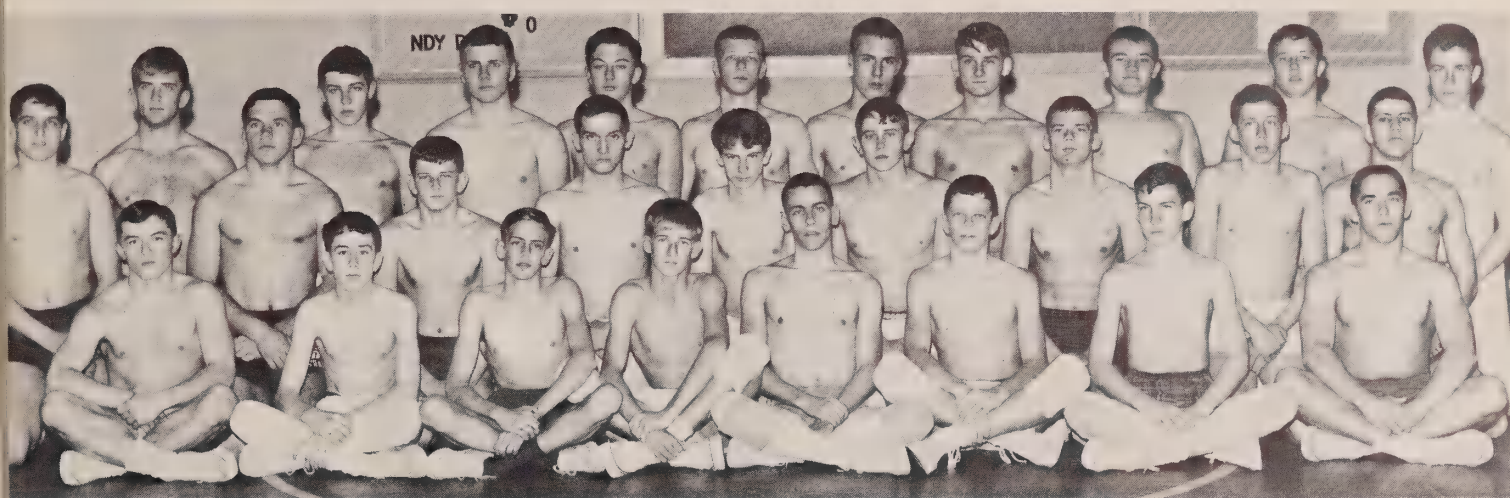

As any wrestler knows, when he is on the mat he is all alone with an opponent that is his to defeat. He feels the complete self-dependence and self-reliance that is necessary to take his opponent, and he knows that there is no one to physically back him up.

Wrestlers at WCHS, under the able direction of Coach Jackson A. Branch, know the satisfaction of pinning a man in less than one minute; they know well the struggle to break their men down on the mat; and they know the sting of defeat.

Pardue, Charles Broyhill, Bill Hayes, Tam Hutchinson, Tony Massingill, Randy Barker, Lin Brooks, Roger Necessary, and Gene Spainhour.

In a matter of seconds Sam Stroud will yield to Randy Barker's well applied "half nelson".

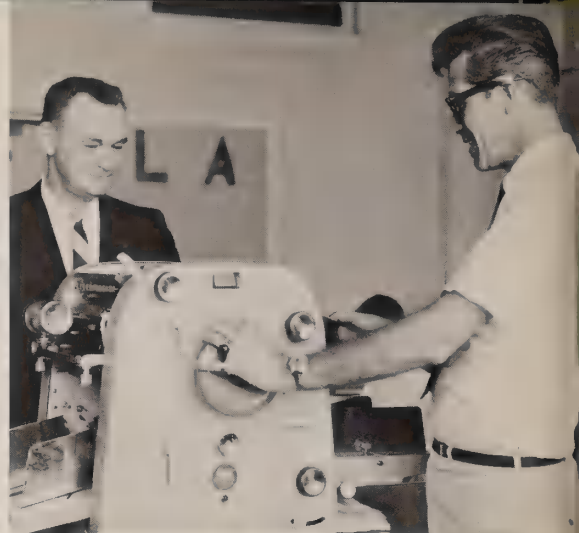

First-year men look on as Phillip Smith demonstrates an effective counter to Tony Massingill's "switch".

Aquila

Through the five editions of the AQUILA published this year, each subscriber has retained an accurate history of all the highlights of the 1965-66 school year at WCHS. Under the guidance of its advisor, Mr. Greene, the staff has toiled many long hours compiling and editing all news into an excellent newspaper. Pride in the AQUILA has been experienced not only by each staff member but by each Centralite as well because it is his paper.

Mr. Furr's skills in using the offset duplicator for printing the AQUILA made the paper easy to read and very enjoyable.

Bob Lewis, Gwyn Wood, James Shumate, Bobby Taylor, Ed Garmon. THIRD ROW: Eddie Bundy,

Marcelle Morgan, Kay Brock, Abi Bowers, Bobby Lewis, Mark Dalrymple, and Eddie Bundy act as an assembly line to get the papers ready in time to meet the deadlines.

Under Mr. Greene's supervision John Swofford and Louisa Smith use their intellectual abilities to help produce a successful newspaper.

Chess

John Williams studies the situation seriously as Bill Clements moves with a winning smile.

Ronald Jones and Ralph Holbrook battle out a serious contest.

Although many consider it an intellectual pursuit, these Centralites find chess a very challenging and enjoyable activity. The skill and concentration demanded in chess requires the intellectual stimulation of each of the members and rewards him with victories in hard-fought battles.

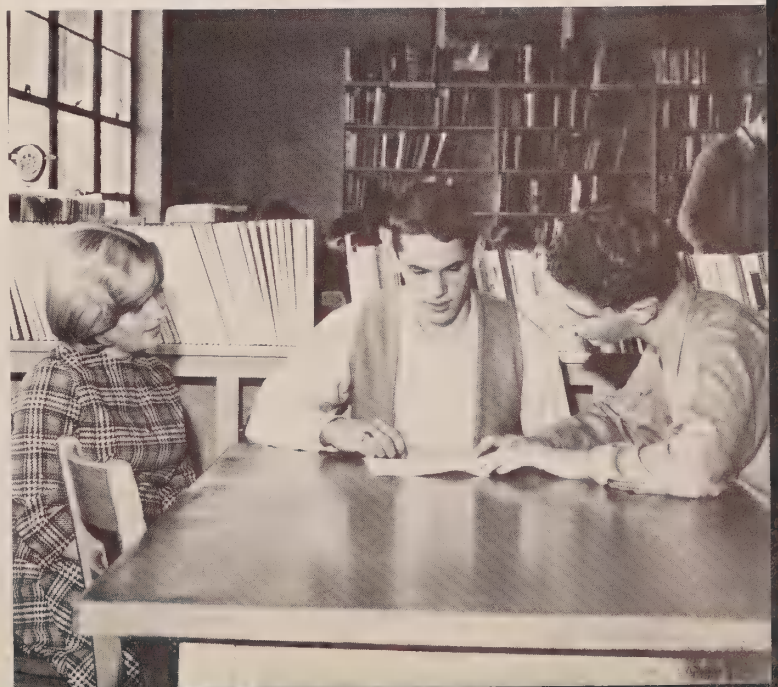

Interclub Council

Bill Thomas and the Council discuss the charter of a new club.

Laura Stroud and Gray Crouse discuss their club's floats with President Bill Thomas.

As the presidents of the various organizations came together to decide on club meeting times, the 1965-66 Wilkes Central High School Interclub Council was formed. The Council functioned first as a body when they planned and carried out homecoming activities. When there were any social activity conflicts, the Council met to consider the conditions and recommended the best solution.

Band

A band furnishes inspiration at sports events, draws the public's attention to the school, and helps bring a certain amount of culture into the community. Each member has his responsibility to the school and community. Being well aware of this responsibility, the members of our band have strived to uphold and improve the fine reputation that it has enjoyed in previous years. A band that has accomplished these things is truly worthy of praise.

Long hours of practice are necessary to perfect the technique of a fine marching band.

Kathy Billings, Danny Hayes, Rebecca Waugh, Hayes Benton, and Nancy Elledge show off three trophies which the band won in competition with other bands in the state.

The band leads the homecoming parade through North Wilkesboro.

The majorettes—Debbie Marshall, Kathy Blevins, Lorraine Miller, Teresa Sale, Kathy Billings, and Jackie Priester—are lovely additions to the half-time show.

Green and Gold

Clara Ray, Richard Watson, Nancy Brewer, Kay Kinlaw, Linda Frazier, and Linda Wood, members of the business committee, did much of the typing and all of the financial work for the staff.

Linda Wood, business manager, and William Mathis, editor, discuss the budget with Mrs. Woodward, advisor.

Martha Smithey and Vernon Smith, staff photographers, were seen in many different places taking pictures.

"What were the results of the votes of the name change"? "When is our deadline"? "Can we have more pages for our section"? These were some of the familiar pleas sounded by staff members as each began work on his section of the yearbook with the determination to make it the best ever. Much preparation had been made by the staff members for their work. The workshop one day in the summer, the selling of advertisements before the opening of school, the representatives sent to the workshop at Greenville, and each individual's study of yearbooks began to show their effects as layouts were drawn up. When the last section of the yearbook was sent to the publisher, each member breathed a sign of relief for a job well-done and felt a pang of sadness that there was no more responsibility for the 1966 Green and Gold.

Joyce Joines, Brenda Nunn, Billy Poole, William Mathis, Marie Wingler, and Diane Stone look through other yearbooks for ideas for the introductory section.

The members of the Activities Committee are: Billy Poole, Vernon Smith, David Lockhart, Tommy Boyd, Joyce Stout, Martha Smithey, Martha Minton, Geraldine Smithey, Marie Wingler, Carolyn Benton, and Margaret Shumate.

Brenda Nunn, Phyllis Williams, Diane Stone, Brenda Rhodes, JoAnn Mastin, Linda Cardwell, Linda Faw, and Rudyne Call are busy filing pictures for the class sections.

Green Key

Members of the Green Key Club are, FIRST ROW: Mark Dalrymple, Richard Watson, Bill Thomas, Vice-President; Sue Owens, secretary; Mickey Allen, treasurer; Danny Hayes, president; Terry Johnson, Steve Harvel. SECOND ROW: Jim Smoak, Gray Crouse, Anita Ford, Joyce Stout, Marie Wingler, Marcelle Morgan, Susan Kerbaugh, Linda Wood, Diane Stone, Phyllis Williams. THIRD ROW: Marvin Brame, Paul Caudill, Fred Greene, Howard Wallace, John Williams, Marilyn Garwood, Nancy Church, Vickie Huffman, Linda Faw, and Joyce Joines.

Green Key Members Vickie Huffman, Nancy Church, Phyllis Williams, and Linda Wood sold victory ribbons during the lunch periods.

Green Key member Mickey Allen takes Ronald Huffman and Dale Long's money for their ticket to see the basketball game.

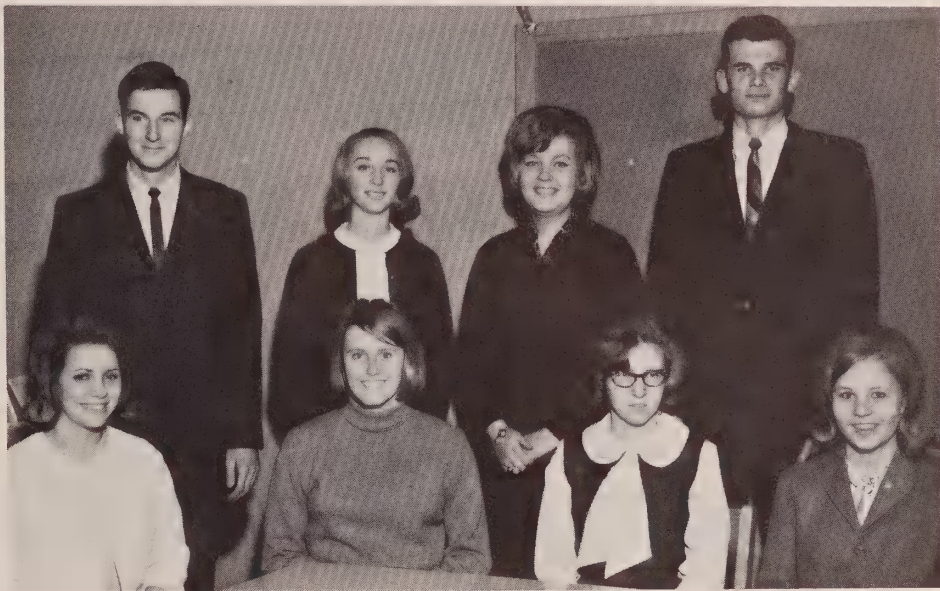

The Green Key Club is an organization which gives willing students an opportunity to render their services to WCHS. The thirty juniors and seniors begin work at the opening of the school year when members sell victory ribbons in the MP room during lunch. They take ticket money for basketball and baseball games and wrestling matches. This year its members also helped the March of Dimes in a bread sell. The Green Key members, who were chosen for their willingness and initiative, become more effective leaders through their services.

Future Business Leaders of America

Donna Jennings seems to have brought up a very funny point in parliamentary discussion group, at least Larry Handy appears to be amused.

The F. B. L. A., which stands for the Future Business Leaders of America, is a national organization of high school students who are planning a career in business.

The president of the WCHS chapter of the F. B. L. A. was elected vice-president of the state club this year. This club plans to continue furnishing highly competent persons in state offices in the future.

Future Farmers of America

Future Farmers prepare their float for the homecoming parade.

Officers of the 1965-66 F.F.A. are, SEATED: Billy Joe Johnson, president; Tommy Johnson, vice-president. STANDING: Larry Walker, sentinel; Doug Scott, reporter; Wade Handy, treasurer; Jerry Foster, secretary.

Active in community service projects, two future farmers unload their truck after a day of work.

The Future Farmers of America club was founded as an organization to improve the strength of our country by improving agricultural standards and to encourage members in the development of individual farming programs. Through diligent study and hard work the club members learn the most profitable and productive methods of farming. It has been said that the future of America depends on its farmers. It is also obvious that the farmers of the future will come from the F. F. A. clubs of today.

Future Homemakers of America

Sue Sebastian, Devetta Keys, Terry Blevins, Juanita Osborne, Jo Ann Dowell, Patricia Abbot, Linda Greene, and Jane Sebastian acquired many new skills in home economics and homemaking at the F.H.A. convention.

Flower arranging, cooking, and sewing are only a few of the activities performed by the F.H.A. Under the direction of Mrs. Ferne Caudill, these girls are becoming adept in all the housewife's skills. Our school was well represented at the F.H.A. convention where the girls gained many new insights in the field of home economics.

Mrs. Caudill assists Juanita Osborne and Terry Blevins in arranging flowers which make a house into a lovely, cheerful home.

The Future Homemakers are, FIRST ROW: Becky Lowe, Sue Sebastian, president; Jenny Beshears, Brenda Call, treasurer; Devetta Keys, Patricia

Abbot. SECOND ROW: Terry Blevins, vice president; Kathy Billings, Juanita Osborne, secretary; Linda Greene, Jane Sebastian, Jo Ann Dowell, and Jane Somers.

Future Teachers of America

Mrs. Vannoy and Donna Walker discuss a career pamphlet.

Providing members with the opportunity to learn about teaching as a career is the goal of the F.T.A.

The very informal Sadie Hawkins Day Dance provided fellowship and dancing for the Central students.

The state convention at Wake Forest College in Winston-Salem made the members very proud of their advisor, Mrs. Belva Vannoy, who was a capable chairman of the Advisory Committee.

In the month of April, special favors, treats, and honors were bestowed on the faculty in appreciation for the many months of service received from teachers.

Future Teachers are, FIRST ROW: Sarah Lenderman, parliamentarian; Phyllis Call, historian; Becky Piper, reporter; Brenda Call, corresponding secretary; Linda Sue Faw, recording secretary; Jenny Beshears, president. SECOND ROW: Thomas Holloway, Iva Shumate, Sue Sebastian, Sally Schumaker, Nancy Payne, Maxine Brock, Mr. Pierce, practice teacher. THIRD ROW: Barbara Key, Brenda Rhodes, Abi Bowers, Geraldine Smithy, Jennifer Jones, Joyce Joines.

Sally Schumaker, Sue Sebastian, Donna Walker, Becky Piper, and Maxine Brock gave a very interesting assembly during National Education Week showing the changes which have been made in the "World of Education".

Citadels

As a health careers organization the Citadels study the different facets of the medical world and the professions that are offered in the field. They are striving to learn about the health of our nation and what they can do to improve it. They are doing this by visiting different facilities and institutions to learn about the way their lives and those of the people around them are affected by health standards and regulations.

Juanita Osborne, Christine Call, and the entire club visited the water filtration plant as a part of their sanitation study.

Juanita Osborne, Sandra Hanks, Christine Call, and Terry Blevins practice the first-aid skills they will need in medical careers.

Citadels are, FIRST ROW: Jo Ann Vestal, Frances Cross, Teresa Sale, Juanita Osborne, vice president; Brenda Nunn, Sandra Hanks, Johnny Jones, treasurer; Margaret Hall. SECOND ROW: Terry Blevins, president; Janice Caldwell, Claudia Hayes, Christine Call, historian; Cynthia Shew, Loutricia

Mathis, secretary; Margaret Call, and Linda Blackburn.

Highlighters

First and foremost, the Highlighters must be interested enough in singing to devote part of their spare time to further develop their skill. Therefore every member enthusiastically tries to make the club successful, which requires not only determination but talent as well. Through assemblies, the Highlighters have proven to the student body they have fulfilled their requirements. Miss Clements surely deserves much thanks for her efforts to make this group what it is.

Miss Clements assists the Highlighters in an afternoon rehearsal.

From these hands spring forth beautiful music to accompany the Highlighters.

Members of the Highlighters are: Cindy Critcher, Brenda Myers, John Davis, William Brown, Susan Kerbaugh, Laura Day, Carol Dillard, Vicky Huffman, Clara Lynn Ray, David Foster, Bill

Thomas, Nancy Church, Marie Canter, Elsie Bynum, Elizabeth Triplette, Marcelle Morgan, Syd Spainhour, Ed Garmon, Burlie Bengé, Joyce Whittington, and Jennifer Jones.

Hi-Y

The main purpose of the Hi-Y club is to create and maintain high standards of Christian living in the school, in play, and in the community. They achieve these goals by bringing in interesting persons in the community to speak and having outstanding programs for the club.

The club this year consists of 36 boys who have carried out the objectives of this club with the help of their advisor, Mr. Durham.

These are Hi-Y officers: Paul Southwell, vice-president; Jim Smoak, president; Howard Wallace, secretary; Bill Clements, chaplain.

BACK ROW: Mr. Durham, advisor; Dan Pratt, Wayne Brooks, Lewis Poteat, Mark Dalrymple, Fred Greene, Bill Hayes, Eddie Carrigan, Bill

Gwyn, John Williams, Jan Searce, Ronald Huffman, Joe Jones, Russ Ferree, Vernon Smith, and Rob Jones.

These boys are busy studying pamphlets for future programs.

This speaker for the Hi-Y is apparently presenting an interesting program of these boys.

Tri-Hi-Y

The purpose of the Tri-Hi-Y is "to create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character." They showed their motto in their after-the-game dances which boosted school spirit and helped encourage our football team. The Tri-Hi-Y's other activities were selling pins during football season, making a much-admired float for the Homecoming parade, holding discussions at meetings, and participating in charitable projects.

Jenny Beshears and other Tri-Hi-Y members make favors for the patients' trays at Wilkes General Hospital at Thanksgiving.

Tri-Hi-Y members are, FIRST ROW: Tootie Raymer, Kathy Billings, Carol Frenck, sergeant-at-arms; Pete Piper, Margaret Shumate, and Susan Kerbaugh. SECOND ROW: Linda Shumate, Marilyn Shumate, Jane Somers, Linda Wood, secretary; Joyce Stout, treasurer; Kaye Cashion, president; Micky Allen, chaplain; Kay Kinlaw, Ina Saunders, Beth Duncan, and Mrs. Shaw, advisor. THIRD ROW: Brenda and Linda Phillips, Bronda Osborne, Sally Shumate, Patsy Love, Maxine Brock, Jenny Beshears, Brenda Call, Marie Cashion, Jo Ann Mastin, Becky Piper, Peggy Taylor, Martha Smithey, Martha Minton, Linda Myers, Nancy Brewer, and Carissa James.

Bronda Osborne, Peggy Taylor, and Pete Piper plan one of the Tri-Hi-Y's many discussions.

Sigma-chi Tri-Hi-Y

Through the candy sale, Sigma girls develop their salesmanship ability.

Sigma members are, FIRST ROW: Nancy Norman, chaplain; Janie Bumgarner, sergeant-at-arms; Ruth Gray, vice-president; Laura Stroud, president; Suzie Whittington, secretary; Wrenda Rogers, treasurer. SECOND ROW: Mrs. Gardner, advisor; Debbie Brooks, Diane Adams, Joyce Wiles, Martha Kilby, Jane Sebastian, Lynn Cranor, Betty Shumate. THIRD ROW: Cindy Self, Jo Rhetta Elledge, Ann Rita Rhodes, Bonnie Foster, Kathy Frenck, Sharon Carty, Glenna Osborne.

Paying dues is tedious, but necessary if the club is to have any money.

This club is composed of Freshman and Sophomore girls who display leadership ability and a willingness to work. They have displayed these talents in their candy sales and in their programs. The Sigma chi Tri-Hi-Y along with the other "Y" clubs is making the community a better place to live, work and play.

Kappa-chi Tri-Hi-Y

Suzy Trivette keeps a careful record of membership and dues to balance the budget.

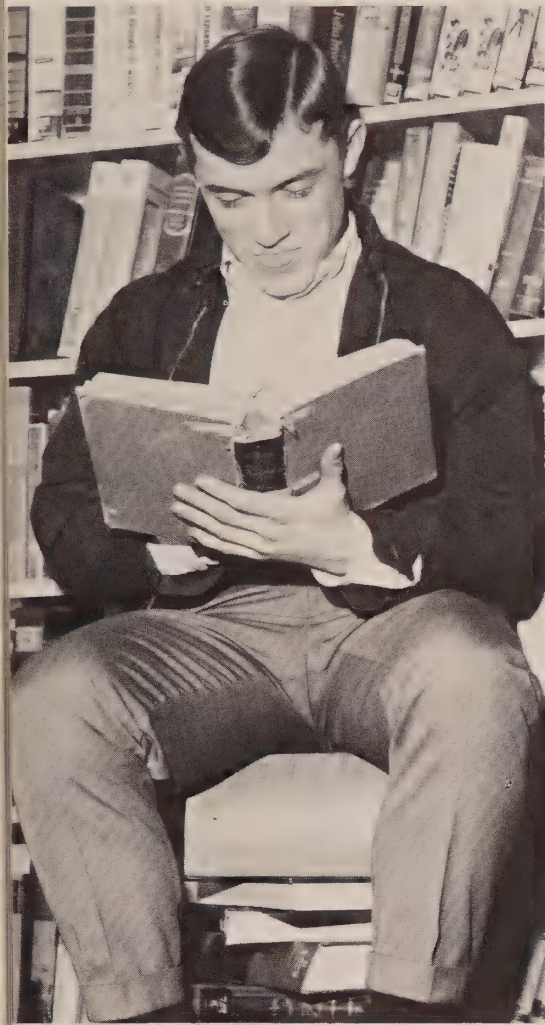

Kappa Members are, FIRST ROW: Pam Priester, chaplain; Donna Call, sergeant-at-arms; Sharon Billings, vice-president; Frances Cashion, president; Lorraine Miller, secretary; Suzy Trivette, treasurer. SECOND ROW: Cynthia Foster, Ava Dove, Sheila Lewis, Gail Owens, Miss Lankford, advisor; Carol Hayes, Rebecca Huie, Elaine Anderson, Vickie Greer.

Through the year at Wilkes Central these Freshman and Sophomore girls live up to their motto, "To create, maintain, and extend, throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character." The members work hard planning dances enjoyed by everyone.

Sheila Lewis and Carol Hayes receive their pins from Donna Call.

National Honor Society

As a member of the National Honor Society, I will never forget the induction and all that went with it. There were the parents sitting along the side of the gymnasium; the stage with the table and candles; and the robes in the empty chairs. The president, Mike Gilbert, gave the introduction and the members started the tapping. Slowly each senior member lit a candle and took another unlighted. The slow, solemn march from the stage to each hopeful new member in the audience was begun.

So it was, is, and will be for these WCHS National Honor Society members and those who will follow. The only difference will be a new president, new faces, and after a time new candles. The ideals, services, and honor of this organization will endure as long as there are men and women with high ideals and goals.

Knowledge can pile up.

The National Honor Society's swami made an accurate prediction.

Playmakers

Actors take emotion and improve on it; they take nature and mold it into art. The Playmakers at Wilkes Central have proved themselves to be true actors. Through long hours of hard work spiced with the expected moments of humor, our Playmakers have brought to our school local acclaim and state-wide recognition.

The 1965-1966 Playmakers are: Larry Sale, Betty Link, Jane Sommers, Nancy Church, Clyde Waugh, Danny Hayes, Donna Jennings, Bruce Bowers,

Margaret Shumate, Johnny Eliot, Jim Billings, Hanns Manship, Vicky Huffman, Beth Duncan, Ronnie Huffman, Joyce Stout, John Williams, Tootie Raymer, Syd Spainhour, Gary Hayes, Debbie Marshall, Lee Foster, Terry Johnson, Pete Piper, and Pat Childress.

Other members of the Playmakers are: Sandra Hollifield, Kay Kinlaw, Joyce Whittington, Haydon Johnson, Ed Garmon, Kathy Billings, William Mathis, Loutricia Mathis, Susannah Cashion, Teresa Sale, Bonnie Stamper, Jan Pearson, Dottie McElwee, Jim Lowe, Marilyn Garwood, Anita Ford, Martha Smithey, Johnny Gilreath, and Brenda Nunn.

The club has been led by John Williams, president; Jim Lowe, vice-president; Susannah Cashion, treasurer; Joyce Stout, historian; and Nancy Church, secretary. Mr. D. S. Mayes acted as advisor and director.

For the year 1966, our Science-Math Club members are: SEATED: Christine Call, Loutricia Mathis, Shirley Shumate, Judy Miller, Loretta

Mitchell. STANDING: Mr. Troy Carpenter, advisor; Joseph Jones, Gray Crouse, Billy Poole, Bill Clements, Roy Crouse, Danny Hayes, Mrs. Lois McGrady, advisor.

Science-Math

The Wilkes Central Science-Math Club consists of students who are interested in science and mathematics beyond the point of simply taking them as courses here. Most of the students are planning to make their life's work one in which these subjects will play a major part. Anyone, however, who would like to experience demonstrations and proofs of scientific and mathematical laws is welcomed to the monthly meetings. The club only hopes to further the student interest in this area here at Central.

Bill Clements and Shirley Shumate watch a demonstration of the Van de Graff generator, given by Mr. Troy Carpenter, club advisor.

Mrs. McGrady discusses plans for this year's science project with Gray Crouse, Loutricia Mathis, Joe Jones, Christine Call, and Billy Poole.

Student Council

The Student Council officers are: Joyce Joines, treasurer; Peggy Taylor, secretary; Bill Thomas, vice-president; Paul Caudill, president.

The Student Council has the job of expressing the opinion of the students and giving them a say in the operation of the school. There is a great deal of time and effort put into the operation of the council, and the homeroom representatives form a link between the administration and the student. As in the years before, the council has carried out projects to better the school and has introduced some new and novel ideas into the student life. Dances, Christmas cheer, candy sales magazine subscription drive, and all the other activities that we at Wilkes Central High School know so well are sponsored by the WCHS Student Council.

Keeping the bulletin boards up to date was the responsibility of Peggy Taylor and Sue Owens as members of the Public Relations committee.

Mike Meade, Bill Thomas, and Michael Hamby pick up trash as one of the main duties of the house and grounds committee.

Debate Team

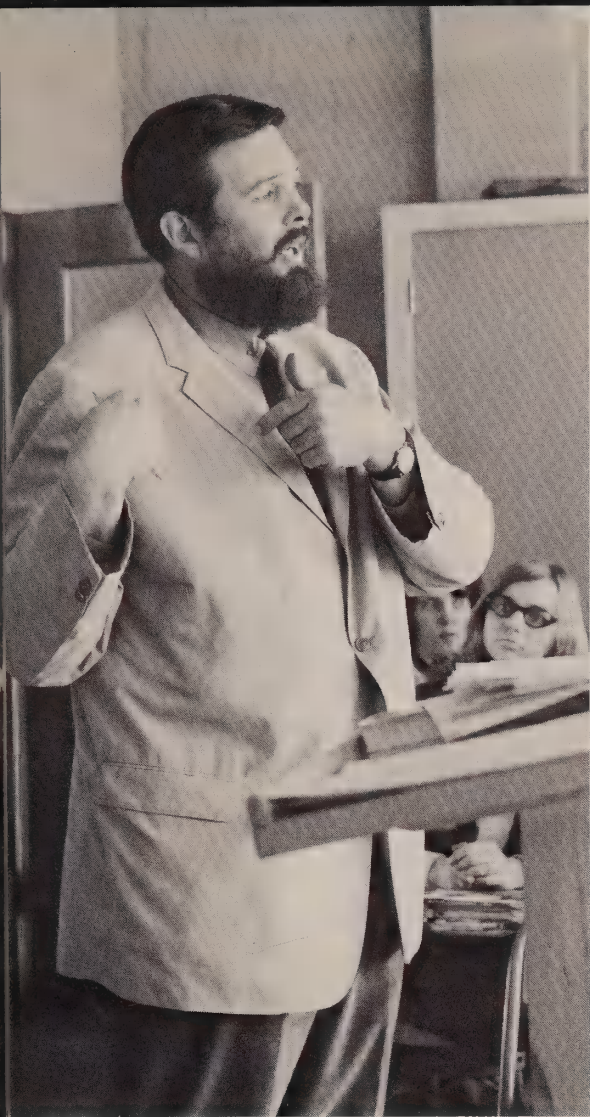

Members of the Debate Team are Don Steward, Jimmy Clements, John Gilreath, and Martha Smithey.

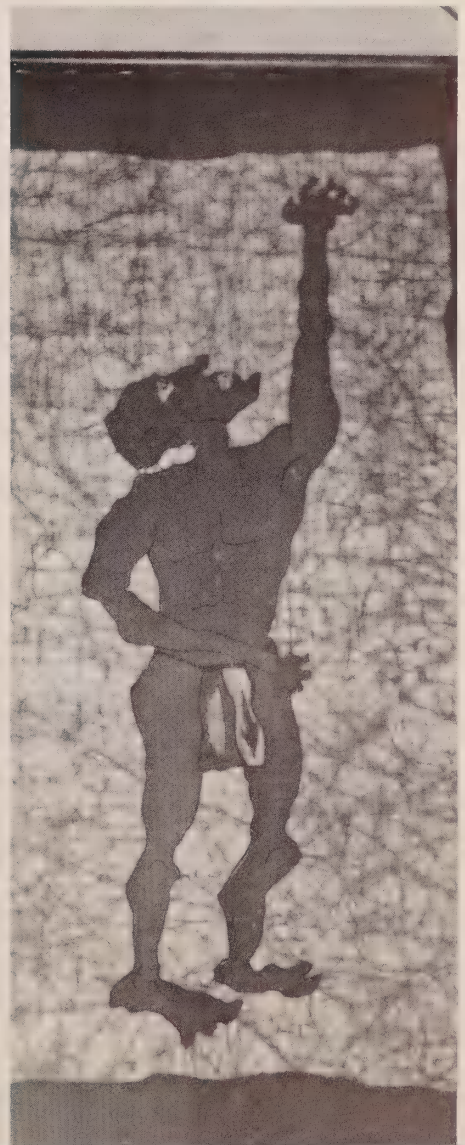

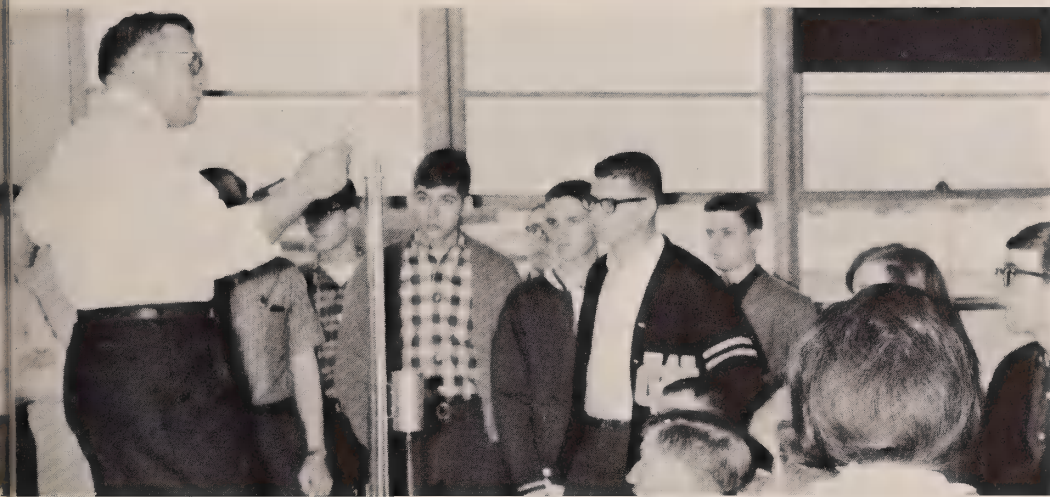

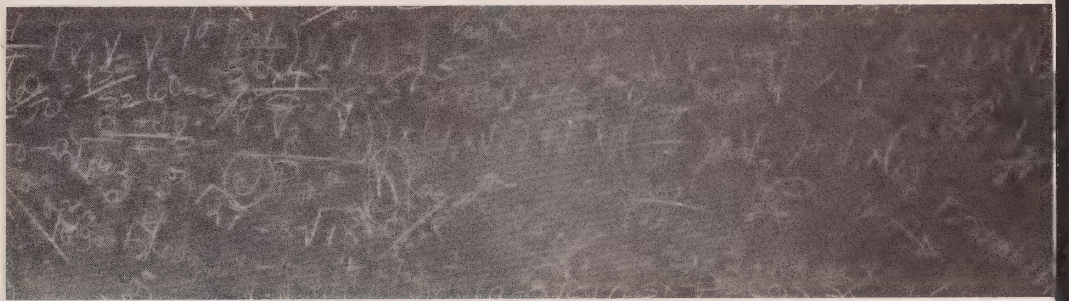

Other members include Christine Call, Henry Hayes, Ed Finley, and Gene Tashiro.

Mr. Mayes, the advisor, gives constructive criticism to Jimmy Clements.

An argument is the least strenuous type of struggle, or so some say; but these Centralites can tell you that a heated debate can be just as grueling as a tangle on the wrestling mat or a battle on the gridiron. They can also testify that winning this battle can be just as rewarding. The Debate Team is one of the new organizations of WCHS and is becoming more familiar to the students. This new organization, with Mr. D. S. Mayes as the coach, adds to the stature of WCHS.

ACADEMICS

ADMINISTRATION

MR. J. FLOYD WOODWARD, Superintendent.

As superintendent of the North Wilkesboro City Schools, Mr. J. Floyd Woodward performs his many duties selflessly. Both teachers and students respect him and the Board of Education for their genuine interest in the progress of WCHS and its students. By working with parents, teachers, and individual students, Mr. Woodward bridges the gap between school and community. Such problems as working out a schedule for making up sixteen lost school days and dealing with personnel and student problems come to the superintendent for his consideration and recommendations. With the help of the Board of Education, school policies are formulated, changed, and revised. Each spring Mr. Woodward must process applications and interview prospective teachers. Each day is filled with both the routine and the unusual. As superintendent, Mr. Woodward contributes to the welfare of the school and to the community.

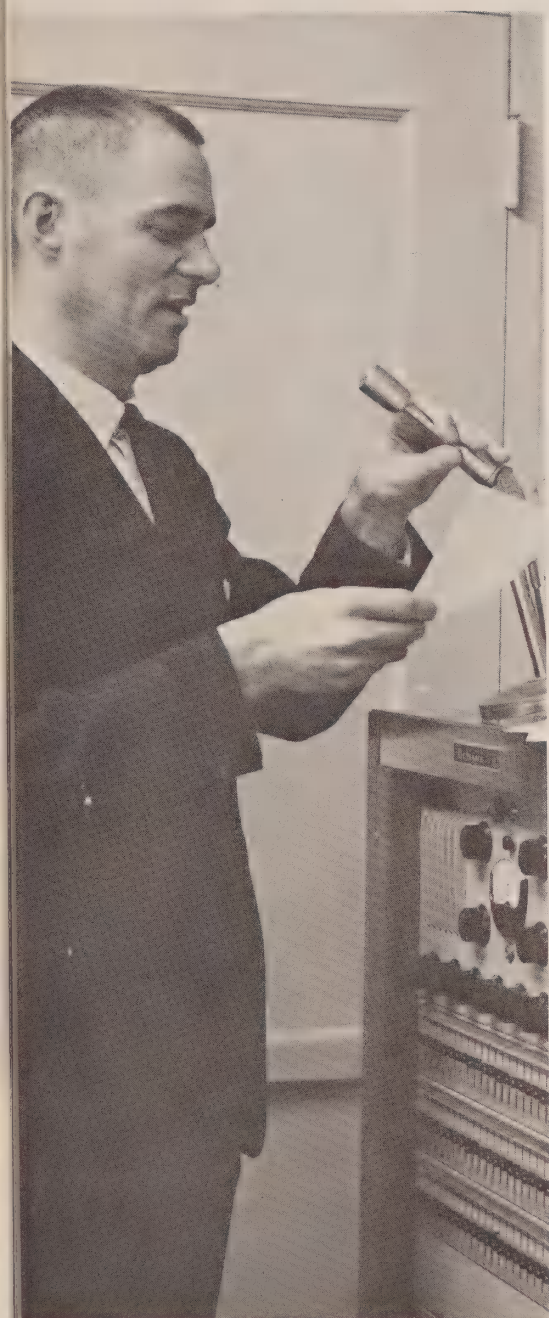

Members of the Board of Education are, LEFT TO RIGHT: Dr. John Bennett, Mr. Ralph Williams, Mr. Thomas E. Norman, Mr. Edward S. Finley,

Chairman; Mr. Julius C. Hubbard, Jr., Mr. J. Floyd Woodward, Superintendent; Dr. Frank Greer, Principal. NOT PICTURED: Mr. Clate

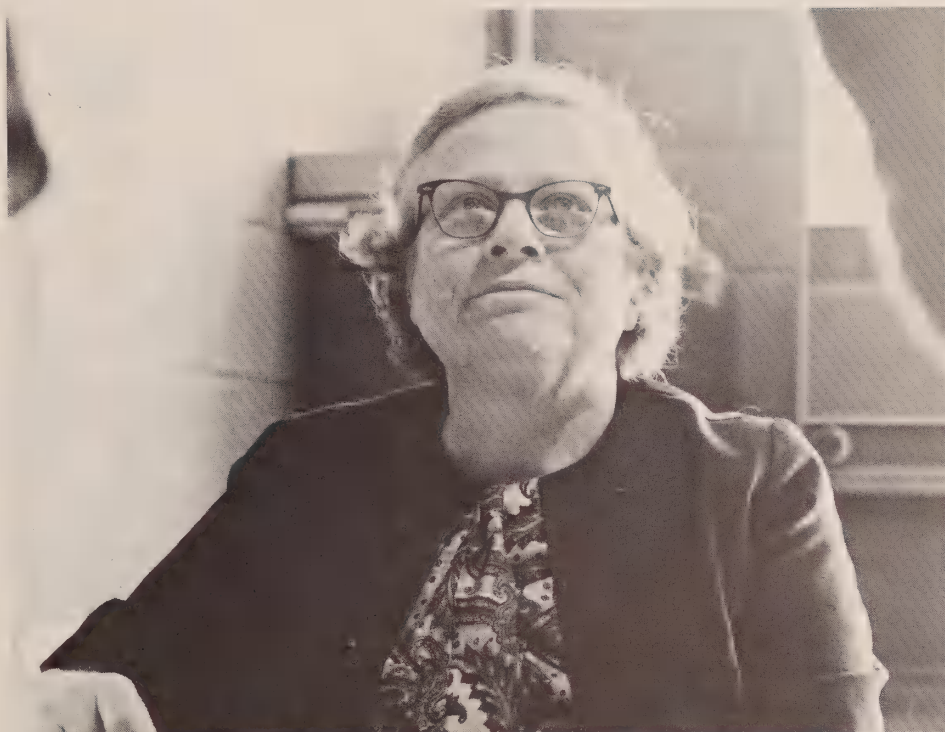

Duncan, Jr., Mr. Lewis Hill Jenkins, Mrs. W. G. Mitchell, Mr. Weaver Starr, Mrs. Bob Yale, and Mr. Tom Story, Jr.

DR. FRANK GREER, Principal

Mr. C. C. Brooks, assistant principal, makes announcements of student interest at the end of each day.

Miss Bea Pearson, guidance counselor, listens attentively to problems and shares the joys of students.

Dr. Frank Greer, during his first year at WCHS, served most creditably as our principal and as president of NCEA, the professional organization of more than 36,000 teachers. He was able to devote the necessary time to his position as president of the North Carolina Education Association because of the able assistance of his administrative aids, Miss Beatrice Pearson, guidance counselor, and Mr. C. C. Brooks, assistant principal.

Adjusting to the environment and the distinctions of WCHS was taken in stride by Dr. Greer. We are proud of our new principal, who, while fulfilling his responsibilities as president of the NCEA, has also managed Wilkes Central competently. Under his capable leadership, the faculty and student body look forward to future achievements at WCHS.

These people behind the scenes . . .

Both students and faculty owe a great deal to the people of the school service staff. They have the responsibility of seeing that everything is in working order. The lunchroom staff has the task of preparing seven hundred to one thousand meals every day. The office staff must keep the records in perfect order and the books in balance, and they must attend to the numerous small details which help the school run smoothly. Everywhere we see the effects of the work of these people behind the scenes, and to them we would like to express our sincere thanks.

Through the school work program Bobby Steele becomes acquainted with the many aspects of library work.

Handling the schools monetary matters is only one of the many duties of Mrs. Davis, our school secretary.

As head custodian, Mr. Bussell spends many hours cleaning our school.

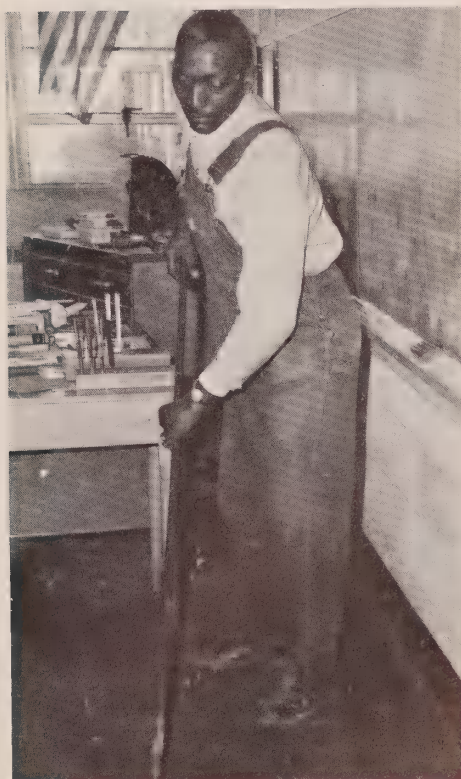

Bus drivers have the responsibility of transporting students to and from school.

Our capable cafeteria staff serves lunch to hundreds of students everyday.

Students pause to discuss the day's events over lunch.

Bill helps with the maintenance of Wilkes Central.

"Fitness" of our nation's youth . . .

With greater emphasis now being placed on the physical condition of our country's youth, the role of the Physical Education Department becomes more difficult. They have the responsibility of developing the bodies of the students and of giving each an insight into the basic fundamentals of sports. The instructors must also act as health and hygiene counselors for the students through the health program. "Fitness" of our nation's youth depends on them.

Boys in the freshmen P. E. classes play basketball not only for the fun of the sport but also for the coordination that it builds.

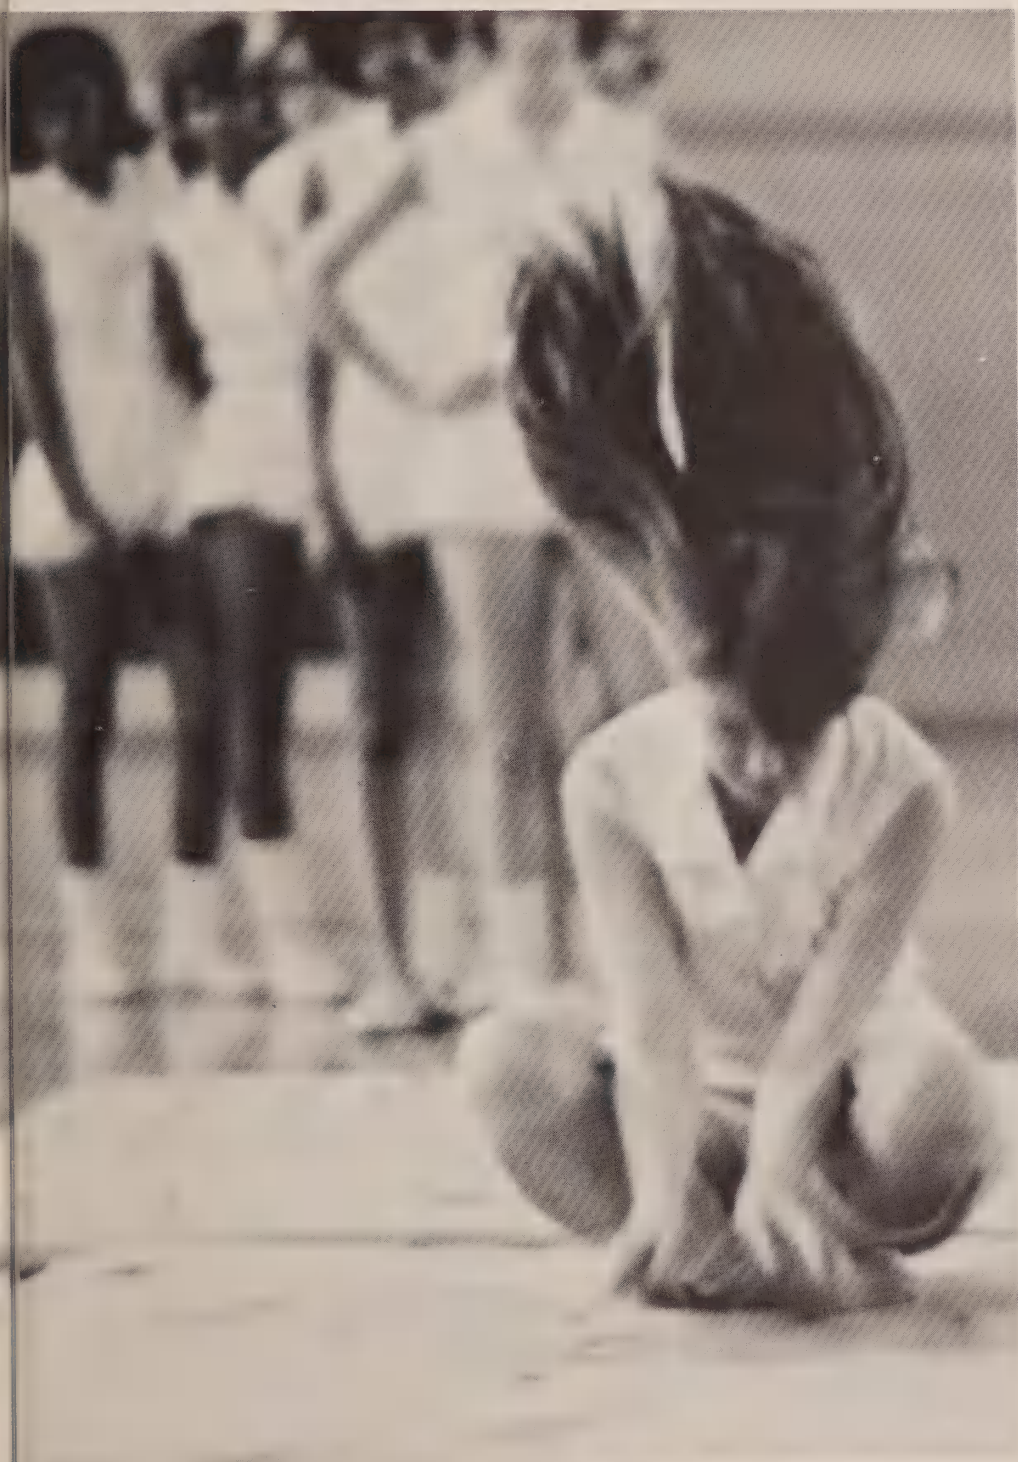

Though this may look like horse-play, it really serves the same purpose as an obstacle course.

Coach Hoffman, director of the Physical Education Department, has the job of coordinating the department's activities.

A pyramid is constructed by members of Advanced Girls P. E.

Tumbling?

Mrs. Madison, coach of the girls' basketball team, instructs the girls' P. E. class in the art of tumbling.

Practical skills for tomorrow . . .

Learning to make an original dress, to bake a favorite cake, and to understand a younger brother or sister are some of the skills acquired in home economics. The Home Economics Department helps girls develop their natural ability for homemaking through practice and a teacher's guidance.

With the rapid increase in the world's population, the role of the farmer becomes continually more important. It is he who provides food to feed vast populations. The Agriculture Department at WCHS helps to meet this challenge by teaching students how to get large productions without sacrificing quality.

The instructors in Mechanical Drawing and Industrial Arts emphasize the importance of accuracy in designing and producing machinery and other materials necessary for modern life.

Drivers Ed students this year have enjoyed using the new blue, automatic '66 Ford, under the direction of Coach Branch.

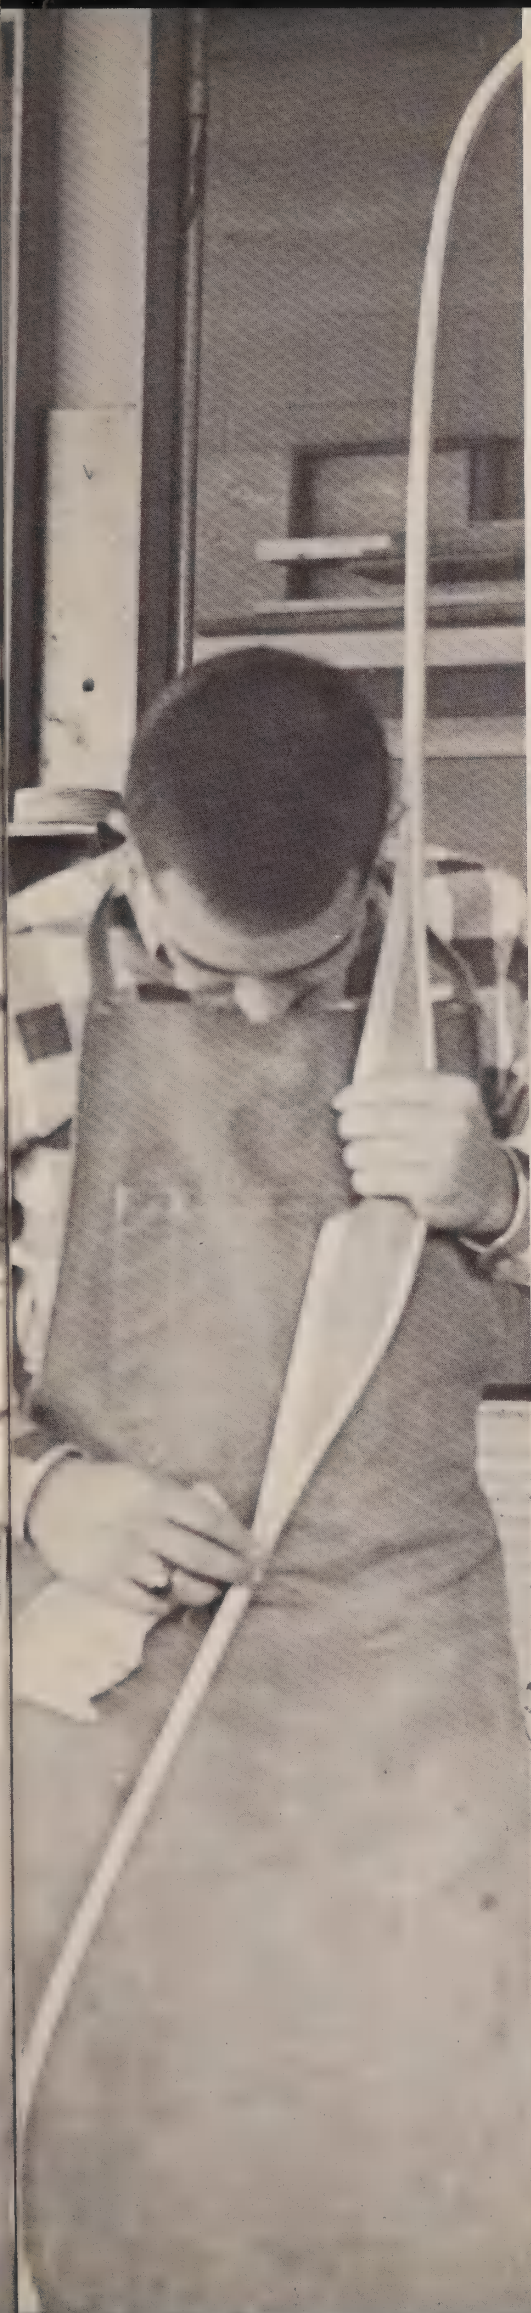

In Home Economics Linda Hayes, Nancy Church, Jerri Lou Johnson, and Jane Somers learn to use many home appliances.

The evaluation of student teachers is one of the many responsibilities of the Home Economics teachers, Mrs. Caudill and Mrs. Gilreath.

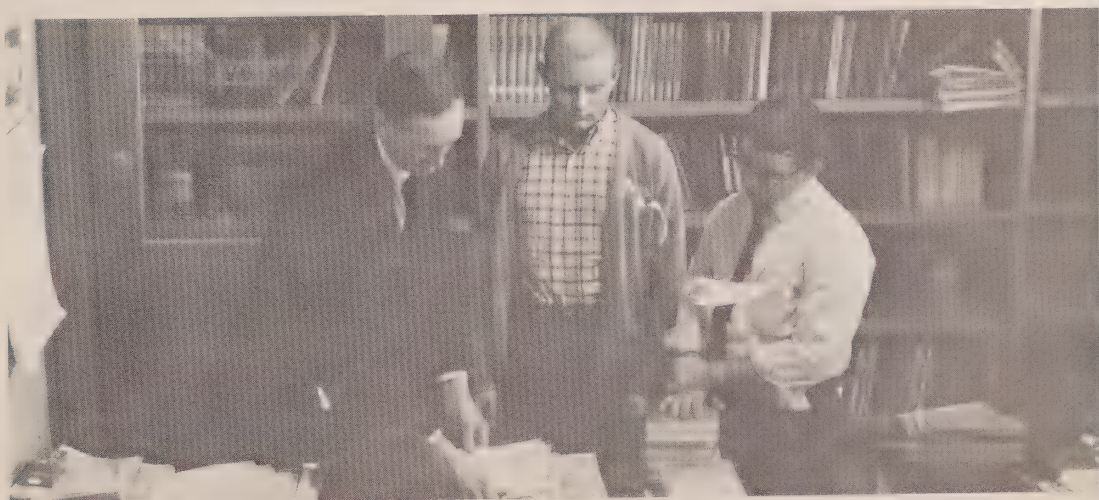

Through experiences with kindergarten classes, Becky Lowe and Peggy Eller, along with the other Home Economics students, learn about child care.

Home projects help future farmers learn better methods of production for agricultural markets.

Mr. Thornburg shows Dan Pratt some of the finer points of Mechanical Drawing.

Mike Joines's prize winning speech in the Parliamentary Procedure Contest is discussed by Mr. Dobson and Mr. Pilch.

After completing his practical projects, Lance Pennell has time to work on his hunting bow.

To express their inward feelings . . .

The Fine Arts Department of WCHS has inspired and trained many students in instrumental and choral music, art, and use of the library. It has greatly enriched the students' lives, allowing them to express their inward feelings.

The band member strives to master the notes on the music sheet and turn them into the rich, beautiful sounds that the composer intended; the choruses sing to enliven the inward emotions of the audience; the art classes draw, paint and sculpture to express themselves and their feelings in paint and in clay. The library provides a place where knowledge enriches lives and minds to their fullest with the pull of a book and flip of a page.

Mrs. Mayes shows Phyllis Call how to reach a high degree of perfection in making her handicraft.

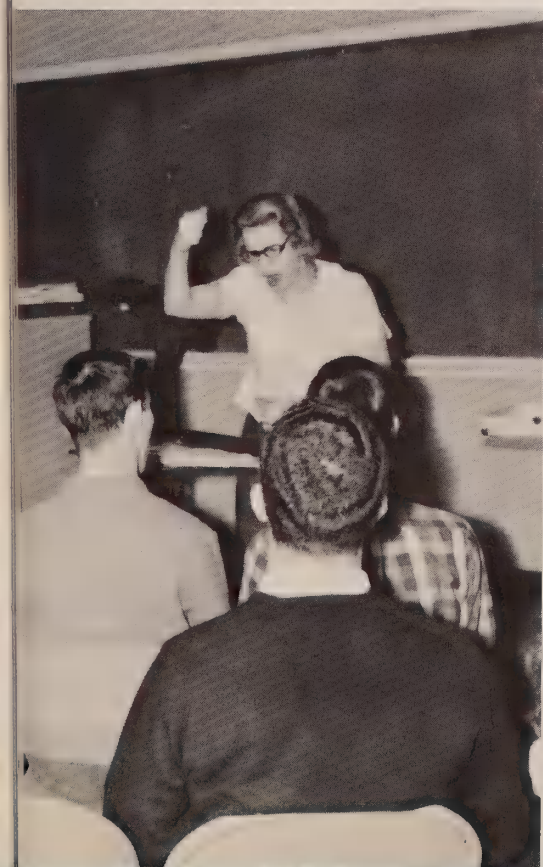

Mrs. Brame and Mr. Roberts perform a helpful task in assisting the students in library work and also maintaining the library orderliness.

Mrs. Call explains to Danny Hayes and Mike Helms the importance of accuracy on the music sheet.

Librarian Wanda Brown sits dutifully at the desk while other students utilize the library.

Miss Clements puts everything she has into her choral directing.

Profitable citizens in the business world . . .

Mrs. Taylor says that questions are the best sources of information.

Miss Lankford gives individual help to Typing students who don't understand how to figure space lines and margins.

Mrs. Jarvis glances up from her task of grading papers which is half of the work of teaching.

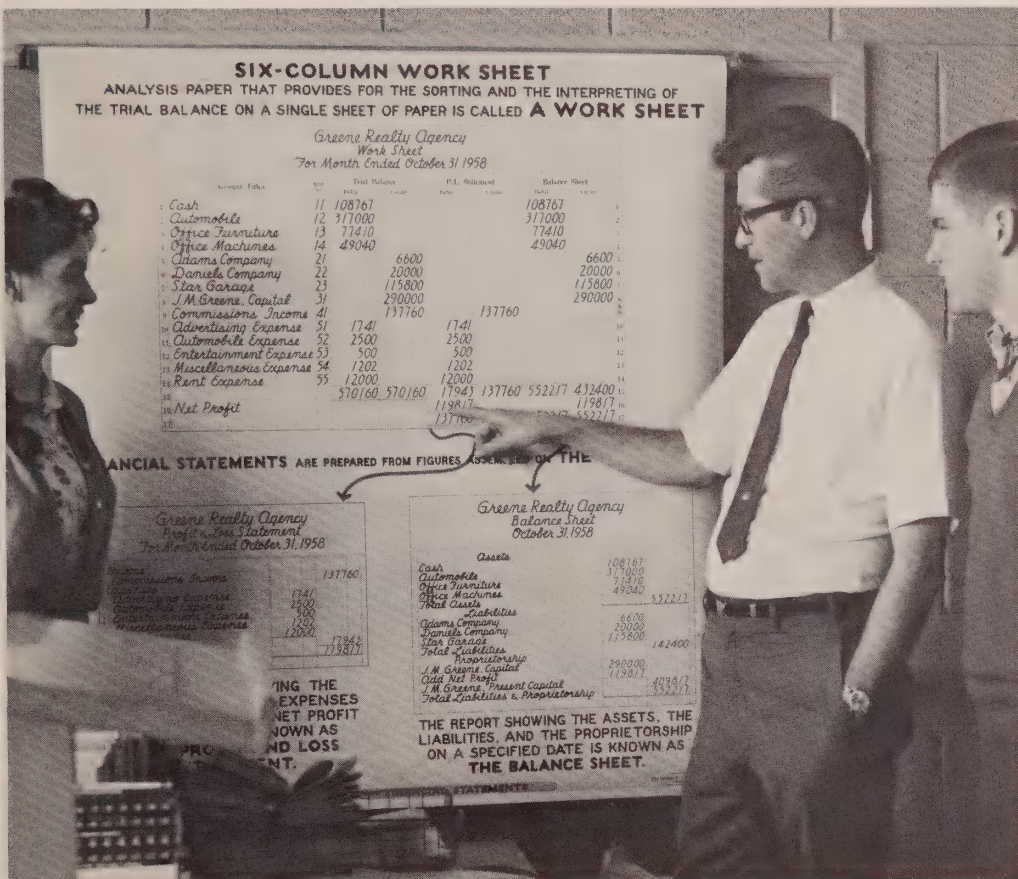

Mrs. Taylor, chairman of Business, gives oral quizzes on solving case problems in Business Law.

"Will you take a letter?" This will be a familiar question for the students in the Business Department. The various phases of business, including business law, typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and office practice are taught by competent teachers. Our Business Department emphasizes the skills that will make students profitable citizens in the business world, for these future leaders and personnel will influence commerce—the life-blood of our nation.

A balance sheet is most essential in the study of bookkeeping, Mr. Furr explains.

Mrs. Welborn concentrates on her lesson she is preparing for the class.

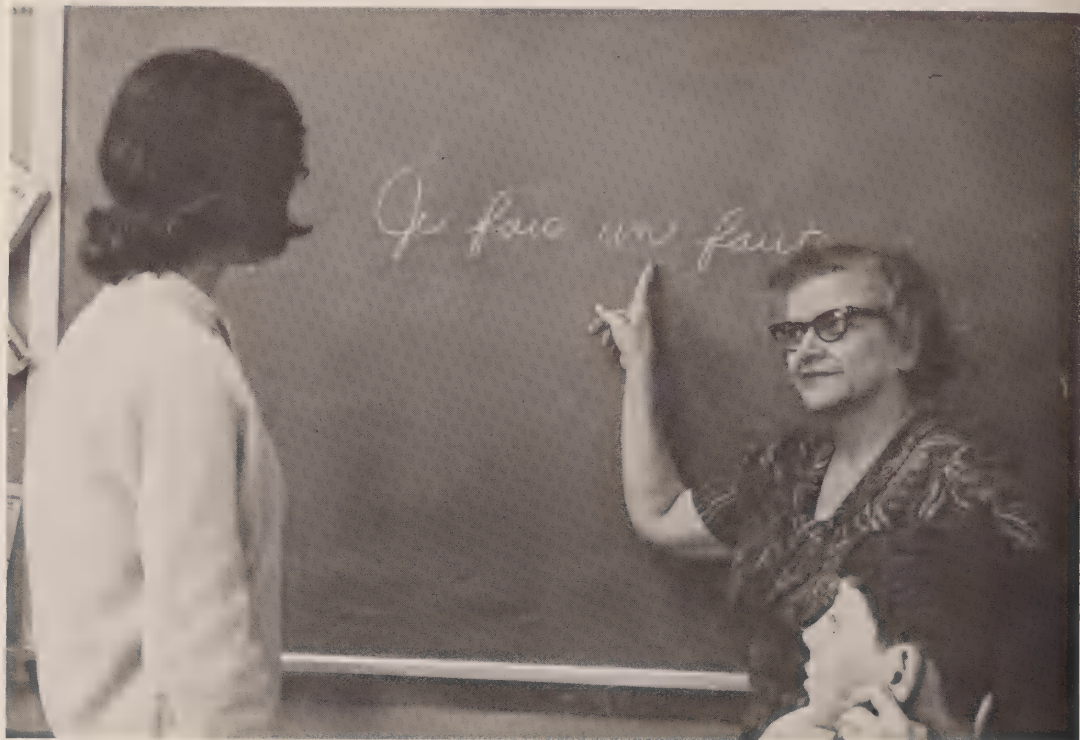

Through timed writings and tests, Mrs. Shaw's typing students develop their abilities and techniques.

Breaking down the barriers

Christine Call presents her weekly report in fluent French.

Mrs. Woodward coaxes a French I student—"Je fais une faute—never forget the gender."

Conjugation of a verb, an earphone and the approving look on Mrs. Wilson's face, tells much about Spanish I.

of Communications . . .

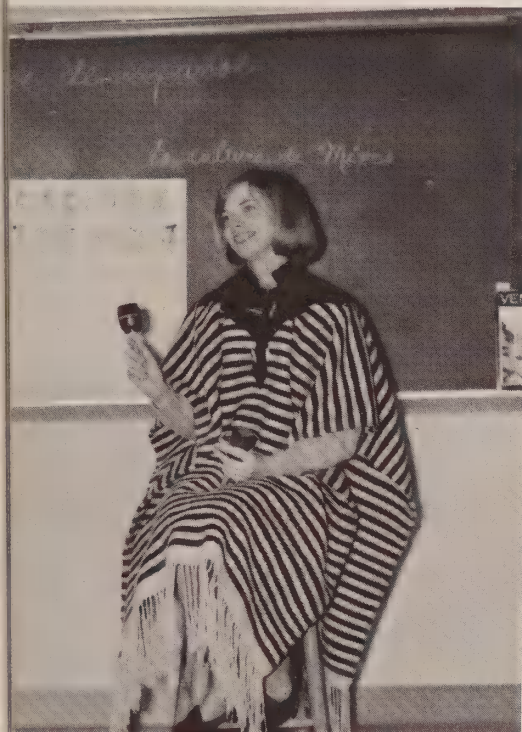

Breaking down the barriers of communication and furthering our understanding of foreign countries—their governments, their customs, and their people—are the major objectives of our foreign language department.

Students of French begin by studying language patterns, pronunciation, inflection, grammar and acquiring basic skills of the language. Then, they are prepared for reading French novels, giving oral reports, and writing essays in French.

From Latin, students learn to appreciate Roman civilization as a source of many influences in modern life. They gain a background in grammar and vocabulary that will help them learn living languages and greatly enrich the use of their native language.

To help the pupil gain a better understanding of our next door neighbor, Mexico, WCHS is this year offering its first course in Spanish. In addition to the language itself, pupils study costumes and songs.

To learn Spanish fully is to write, speak, think, and live Spanish!

Mr. Greene proudly displays one of his students' projects, a section of a Roman Aqueduct.

Translating Latin isn't always such an earnest task.

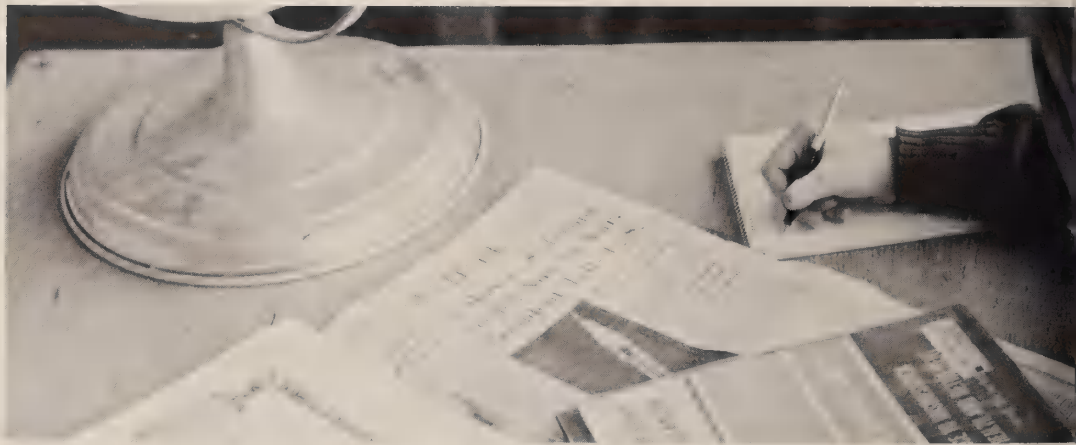

Mrs. Gambill finds that using the console is a most satisfactory way of developing her students in their knowledge of French.

Insight into a brighter future . . .

Mr. Pierce, who did his cadet teaching under the supervision of Mrs. Vannoy, corrects a mistake in Ann McNeil's U. S. history notes.

Mr. Groce takes his accustomed place on the desk at the front of his class and begins his lecture.

A report on the world situation at the present requires the use of all the current sources in the library.

Mr. Mayes employs his hands to stress a point or as an example, making his presentation effective and dramatic.

Courses in Social Studies help students develop a better understanding of the world and of themselves. In history, students learn of past events and social trends. They use their knowledge of the past in analyzing current events.

By use of maps in the study of geography, students learn to visualize the setting of events and gain perspective in thinking of the world.

Sociology acquaints students with various aspects and problems of life. Students are encouraged to develop a basic philosophy of life.

Social studies are important in helping students become responsible and capable citizens. By studying cycles of history, students of today gain insight into a brighter and more prosperous future.

Mr. Catron relates the history of the United States to that of Latin and South America.

Students learn by making the past come to life.

Mrs. Foster, the only sociology teacher at WCHS, has the responsibility of acquainting the students in her class with the tasks and problems of everyday life.

The complex suddenly becomes simple . . .

Science is systematized knowledge. Students with a great curiosity regarding our universe search each branch of science for answers to an infinite number of questions. Being confronted with Darwin's theory of evolution, Biology students strive to prove or disprove it. The mysteries of triodes and diodes collide with the respiratory system, atoms and ions. Problems seemingly too complex suddenly become simple as the mind comprehends scientific truths.

Science students discover the most hectic month is February—the month before the Science Fair. Frantically searching for materials, chemicals and information for their projects, they become in turn discouraged and elated over discoveries and accomplishments. One such was Becky Piper who won first place in the Physical Division with her "Hurricane machine".

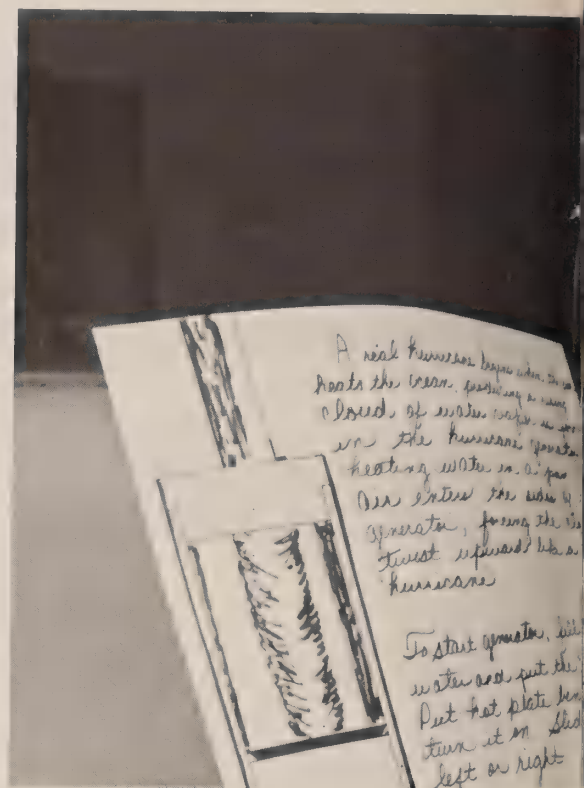

By answering questions Mrs. Tuttle's students reveal their knowledge of scientific principles.

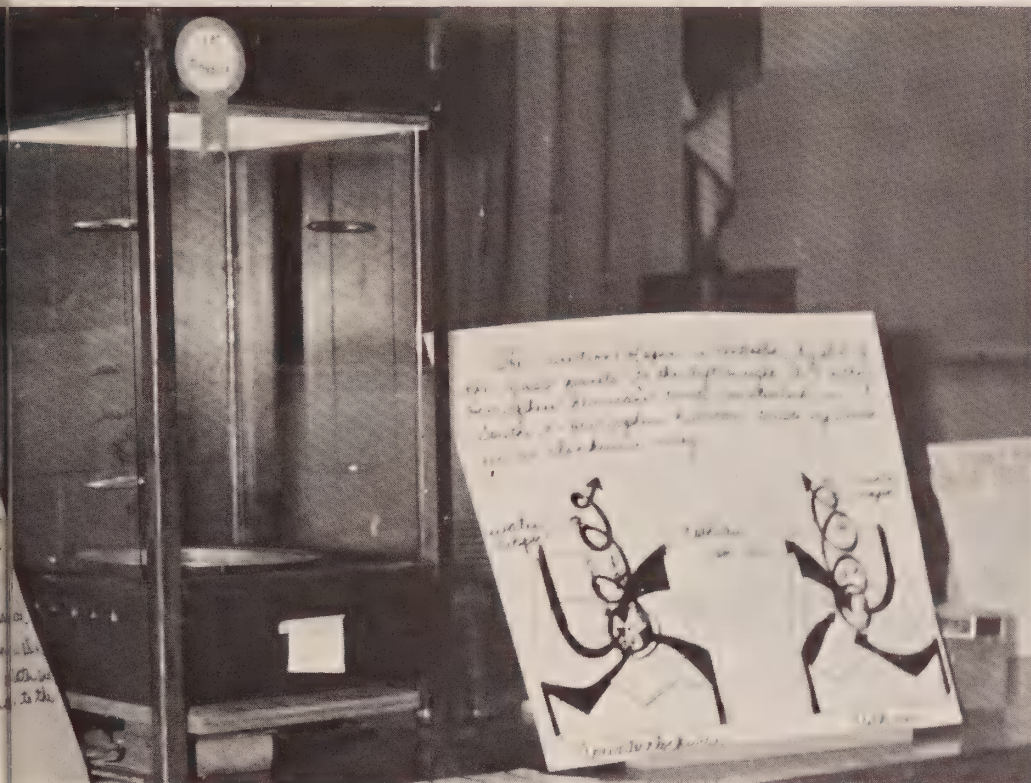

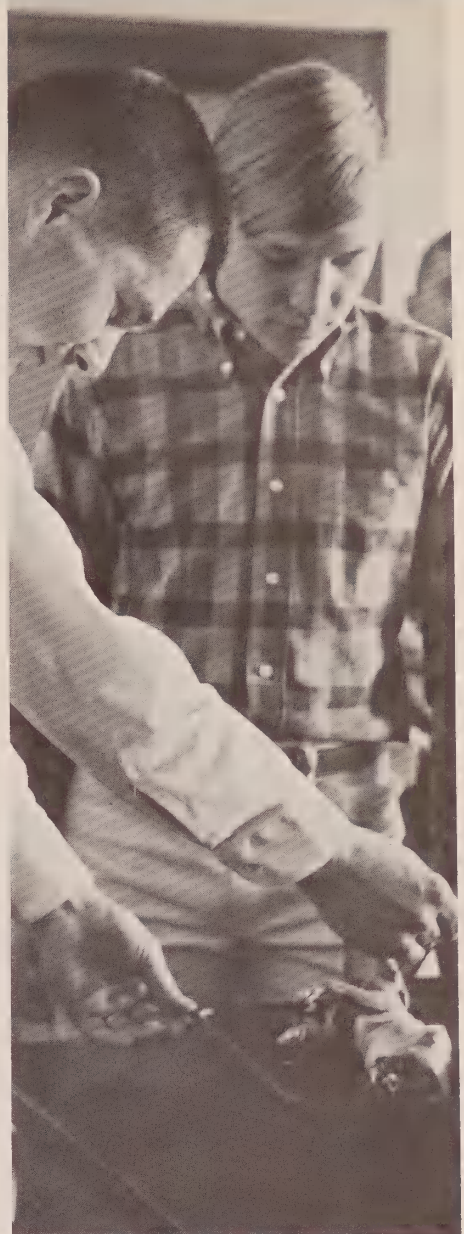

Mrs. McGrady and Jennifer Jones discuss the reaction taking place.

Tommy Ray, under the supervision of Mr. Walker, demonstrates to the General Science class the expansion of liquids at raised temperatures.

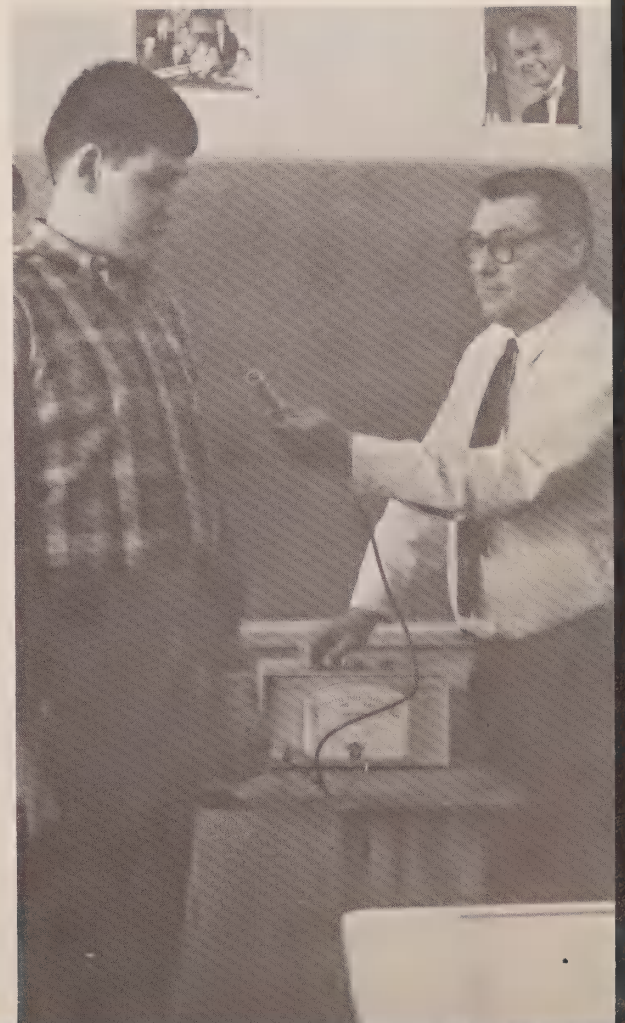

In the gruesome process of dissection Danny Raymer learns more about the internal structure of a pig.

Mr. Durham's biology students explore the microscopic world.

Mr. Hadley tests to see if Hanns Manship is radio-active.

The formation of logical thinking . . .

A class of Advanced Algebra-Trigonometry students study for entrance to some of the nation's best colleges.

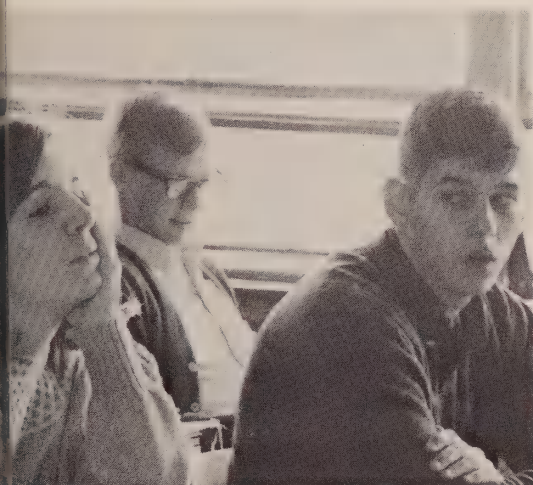

The tools of Geometry are well known by all the students in Mrs. Gardener's class, especially Roger Wright.

Mr. Carpenter uses the graph board to visualize the relationship of two mathematical equations.

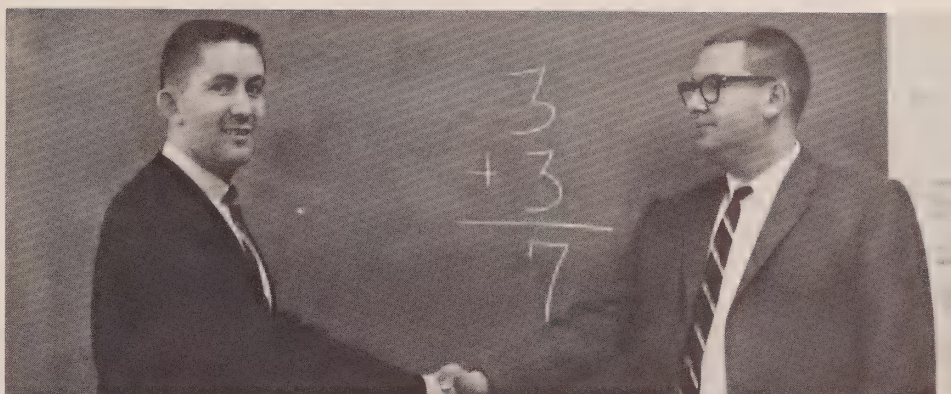

The Department of Mathematics at Wilkes Central provides for practice of the fundamental mathematical skills demanded in society or higher education today. The development of reasoning, the formation of logical thinking, an interest in the subject, and skill in the basic concepts complete a thorough groundwork for development in any field requiring mathematics. Modern educational standards make it imperative that Central students be prepared to take their places both in colleges and in jobs and professions.

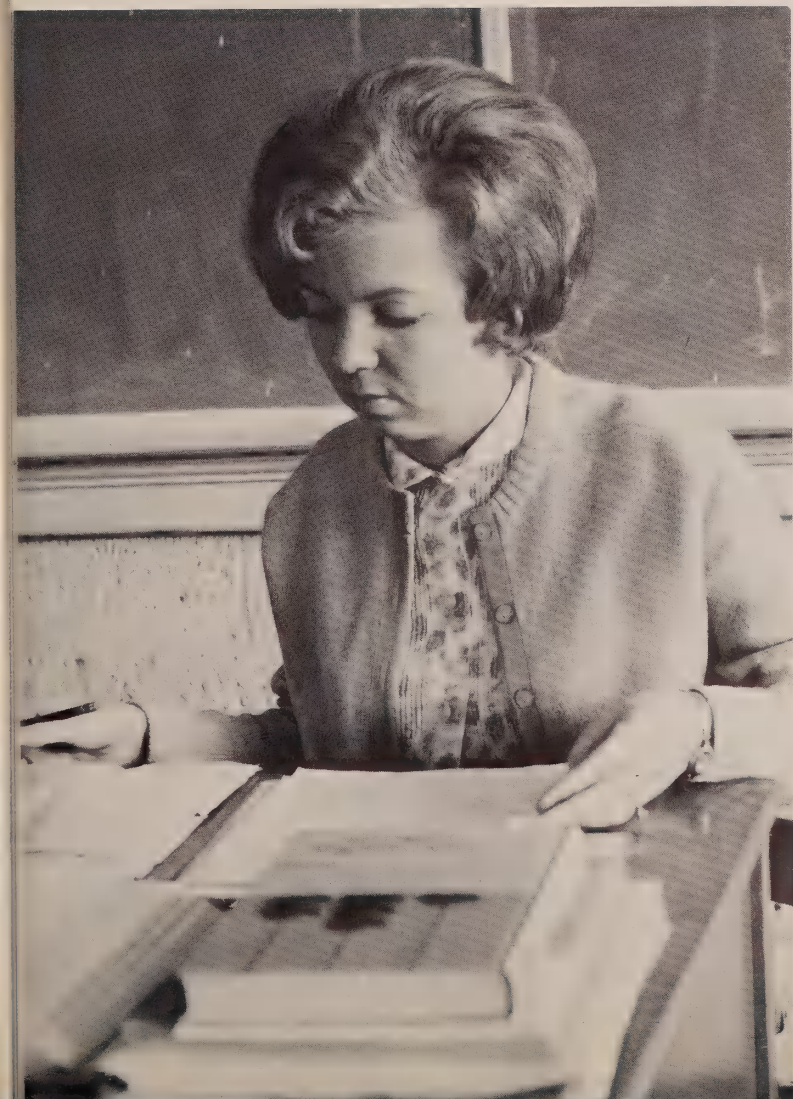

Mr. Michael takes time out from his General Math I classes to relax for five minutes.

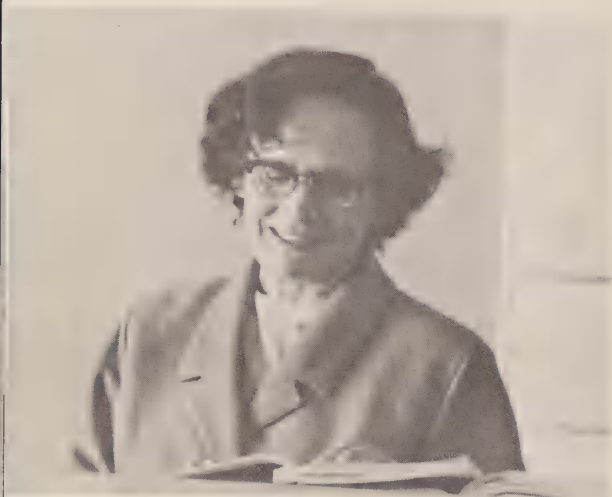

Mr. Paisley and Mr. Deal finally agree on the solution to their problem.

Mrs. Capps' favorite pastime is NOT grading General Math II test papers!

Essence of life . . .

Students learn to appreciate the philosophy of transcendentalism through Mrs. Park's lectures.

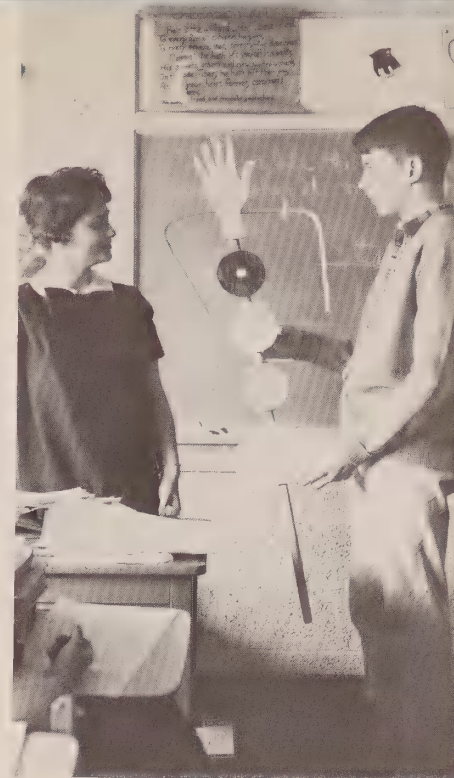

Parallel reading plays an important role in the English curriculum at Wilkes Central.

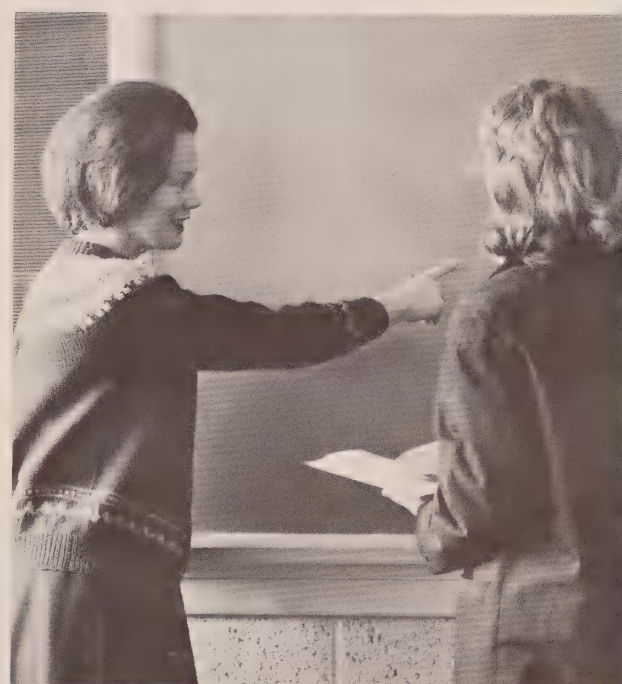

Joan Henderson receives help from Mrs. Surratt in quoting "Anthony's Speech".

Mrs. Hardister and Benson Marsh agree that his project on Caesar is different and outstanding.

Through extemporaneous speaking and oral reports, Mrs. Murray aids her students in becoming at ease while speaking.

Mrs. Greene's bulletin board increases the knowledge and interest of her pupils.

Mrs. Kilby, through diagramming sentences, helps her students to understand the structure of a sentence.

Literary treasures such as the The Scarlet Letter, Great Expectations, Julius Caesar, and Macbeth are only a part of Wilkes Central's English studies. Along with these are grammar, vocabulary, orations, and compositions. Together they compose the basis of the English program.

Through the study of Chaucer and Shakespeare, Seniors learn to understand and admire English writers. Juniors, studying American literature, learn of America's literary heritage, the heritage which has helped to establish the freedoms cherished in America today. Sophomores, introduced to their first tragedy, Julius Caesar, only begin to learn of the great classics. Although Freshmen read widely, their main objectives are to master English grammar, to develop a love of learning and sense of accuracy, and to express themselves well.

It is only through the study of all these that English becomes the essence of life.

In scanning poetry, Mr. Hayes, teaches his students to appreciate the rhythmical beauty of poetry.

The Freshmen arrive. Thus begins a period of initiation to the complexities of high-school life, of adaptation to a new schedule, and to the atmosphere of rushing, working, learning. Trying to be a part of the mad rush of activities, organizations, and studies, they join their first clubs, build their first float, make their first A+, and finally succeed in becoming a true part of WCHS.

During their first year in high school, Freshmen know very few of their fellow classmen. These class officers have made good impressions in a short time. They are, left to right: Frank Day, president; Vicki Cooke, secretary; Joe Wilson, vice-president; and Edie Jones, treasurer.

...finally a true part of WCHS.

Combining work and fun the freshmen built a winning float.

Sophomores begin their second year of life at Wilkes Central by dreaming of the day when they, too, will be juniors receiving their rings; then, seniors preparing for graduation. But for now they are making their mark as J. V. football and basketball players, cheerleaders, club members, students, and very ardent supporters of WCHS.

Tim Day, president; Bobby Taylor, vice-president; Laura Day, secretary; and Sharon Billing, treasurer, have ably led the Sophomore class.

I share: in leadership, sports, happiness, pain, the task of being a junior. My name is Johnny Swofford (President). I experience: the task of handling money, the final exams, the joy in winning a ball game. My name is Marcelle Morgan (Treasurer). I hear: the steady murmur of the students, the music, the laughs, the lecturing teachers. My name is Eddie Bundy (Vice-President). I feel: the closeness of friends, the approach of adulthood, the thrill when I get my class ring. My name is Susan Kerbaugh (Secretary). We understand, we know, we see, we anticipate, we are Juniors!

Mr. Paisley starts off his junior homeroom in high spirits.

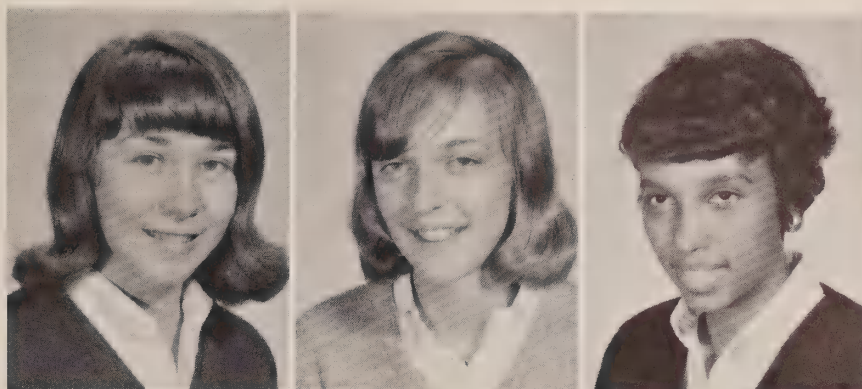

These capable officers have lead the Senior Class during their last year at Wilkes Central. They are: Paul Southwell, president; Jim Smoak, vice-president; Cathy Billings, secretary; and Vicki Huffman, treasurer.

The future is a dark corridor filled with hopes and possibilities.

A senior studies hastily, laughs loudly, works reluctantly, and plays hard. There is such power and confidence in being a finally-at-last senior. Now is the time to enjoy life, to experience adventures never before experienced. Unfortunately, it is also the time to give up childhood games, make-believe, and carefree happiness. A senior must accept the responsibility and decisions that accompany adulthood. He must find rare opportunities to think seriously about the future which stretches before him, filled with endless hopes and possibilities.

THE SINGING SAWS OF WILKES

A modern version of the priceless ingredients is part of the scene at American and Drew
. . . the machine, the material and the maestro are as one.

Performing in concert — applying modern machines to the task of shaping, assembling and finishing fine woods into dramatically styled furniture for householders throughout the land.
